Top CYO Awards Given Two Newton Residents

Two Newton residents and one from Waltham were honored with outstanding youth service awards at the recent fourth annual Archdiocesan Youth Organization, CYO, held in Boston.

Mrs. Archie Hayes, 11 Washburn Ave., Auburndale, a member of Corpus Christi parish, Auburndale, received the Pro Deo et Juventute Medal for service to youth.

John Rooney, 290 Cherry St., West Newton, a member of St. Bernard's parish, Newton, was the recipient of the coveted Eagle of the Cross medal for outstanding youth achievement.

Also receiving the Eagles of the Cross medal was Kathleen Toohill, 836 Trapelo Rd., Waltham, a member of Our Lady Comforter of the Afflicted parish, Waltham.

Most Rev. Thomas J. Riley, auxiliary bishop of Boston, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John P. Carroll, archdiocesan director of the Catholic Youth Organization, officiated at the ceremonies. Bishop Riley presented the awards.

Muther's Dwelling Code Plan Accepted

The House of Representatives last week accepted an amendment offered by Rep. Lorenz F. Muther Jr., Newton Republican, to protect the rights of local boards of health to establish standards of decent, safe and sanitary dwellings which may be more suitable to a community than the minimum requirements of the state code.

Public Apathy Slows Fair Housing, Barshak Charges

Public apathy is one of the major reasons why progress has been slow in combating discrimination in the field of housing, it was charged Monday night by a speaker at the first annual forum held by Newton's Fair Housing Practices Commission.

Said Atty. Edward Barshak,

"The public at large could make a tremendous impression if they were more actively concerned."

Pointing to the progress in the Roxbury community, he said it was made possible because members of NAACP and CORE refused to go on accepting the status quo.

Forum panelists also included William Carmen, Charles Downe and Helen Kis-

Legislators Get Cold Feet On Voting Selves Big Raise

A large number of legislators from close districts are in a dilemma on how to vote on Governor Peabody's recommendation that they give themselves a $2600-a-year pay raise.

Needless to say, they would like fatter pay envelopes. But they realize that if they vote for the increase, after the people last November cancelled out a $1500-a-year wage hike passed late in 1960, it would be used as an issue against them in next year's campaign.

In some areas a vote for the $2600 boost undoubtedly would cost a law-maker his political life.

That, of course, is not true of veteran legislators who are strongly entrenched in their districts and easily win renomination and reelection term after term.

However, the pay raise bill poses a troublesome problem for first-term legislators and for those who either were nominated or elected by narrow margins last year.

Absent Aldermen Stall Project

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs apparently will be balked for the balance of this year in his efforts to obtain funds to finance the erection of a new $2,000,000 municipal incinerator.

Absenteeism on the part of members of the Board of Aldermen has stalled plans for building the incinerator.

The story of why no new incinerator is being built in Newton is unusual and yet at the same time simple.

Mayor Gibbs is seeking a $2,000,000 bond issue to pay for the construction of an incinerator.

An affirmative vote of 16 members of the Board of Aldermen is needed to pass a bond issue.

Sixteen Aldermen reportedly favor the bond issue and eight are against it because they object to the location of the new incinerator on Rumford avenue in West Newton.

But the 16 city fathers who presumably would vote for the bond issue haven't been in attendance at the same time at any meeting during the past three months.

The high point in Aldermanic attendance during the last three months was achieved when 22 of the 24 Aldermen attended a session.

However, a head count indicated that seven or eight of the 22 were opposed to the bond issue, leaving the supporters one or two votes short of the 16 they needed.

The incinerator orders were placed on the table back on Feb. 4 because the Aldermanic supporters of the measure were unable to muster the necessary votes to pass them.

They have languished on the table through the months of February, March and April.

All the signs indicate that they will remain on the table during the months ahead.

If most or all of the opponents of the incinerator proposal show up for an Aldermanic meeting, as they usually do, the Mayor needs a perfect or near-perfect attendance of the Aldermen to secure the passage of his bond issue.

It's possible that all 24 Aldermen will unexpectedly attend a meeting some Monday night, but on the basis of past records it is not likely.

Bowen Hits Plan For Park At Norumbega

J. Ellis Brown, Newton's sealer of weights and measures, acting as a private citizen, told The Graphic today that he was unalterably opposed to a proposal that Norumbega Park "be acquired by public authority and operated as a governmental enterprise at considerable taxpayers' expense."

Asked about the Bowen opinion, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs said the city was taking no official stand on the proposal, and added that "if anyone presents a specific program to me, I'll be glad to consider it."

Board Grants Variance Appeals

The Newton Zoning Board announced Monday that it had granted two hardship variance appeals and part of a third.

Those granted were one by H. Elmore Blanton, 165 Harvard St., Newtonville, for a variance in setback requirements, and one of Edith L. Penner of 24 Bencliffe Cir., Auburndale, for permission to convert her dwelling to a two-family house.

Also granted was a petition of Harold A. Swan and Capt. Harold R. Keller for lot frontage variance and area requirements at 59 Forest Ave., West Newton, but a request for waiving of setback requirements at 59 Forest Ave., West Newton, but a request for waiving of setback requirements was denied.

Newton Professors Are Pre-Retirement Guests

Two Newton residents, Chester P. Baker, professor of chemical engineering, and Dr. George B. Welch, professor of physics, who have a combined total of 71 years teaching experience at Northeastern University, were honored at a recent meeting of the N. U. Cabinet upon the announcement of their forthcoming retirement.

Professor Baker, who resides at 5 Hovey street, Newton, and Dr. Welch of 18 Sylvester road, West Newton, will have the titles of Professors Emeritus bestowed upon them after their June 30 retirement.

At the Cabinet meeting, each professor was presented a mantel clock by Dr. Asa S. Knowles, University president, in appreciation of the years of service given by them to the development of the University.

Professor Baker has served Northeastern for 43 years beginning his teaching in 1920. He is a past president of the Northeastern Faculty Club and is listed in "Who's Who in America," and "Who's Who in Engineering." He engineered the first Chemical Engineering Laboratory at N.U. in 1926.

After retirement, Prof. and Mrs. Baker plan to move to Orleans, Mass., and then leave for an extended European trip in August.

Dr. Welch, who has served Northeastern for the past 26 years, entered the University in 1936 as a consultant in physics.

During World War II, he was on leave of absence for one year to teach in the war training program at MIT. He is the author of a book on wave propagation and antennas, several technical essays and a laboratory manual in physics. He will continue at Northeastern on a part-time basis, teaching a course in physics to evening electrical engineering students.

Seek Fire House Razing Delay

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs expressed hope today that the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority would grant his request that the Newton Corner fire station remain in operation as long as possible pending construction of its replacement, which may not be ready for a year.

"I would hate to lose the location for the ladder there," the Mayor said, and explained that a delay in eviction would in no way slow progress of toll road construction in the area, as the Authority wants to raze the structure only because it would constitute an eyesore should it be allowed to remain in the middle of the Newton Corner interchange.

Charles Morang Resigns Newton Aldermanic Post

Attorney Charles H. Morang of 26 Chinian path, Newton Centre, resigned this week from the Board of Aldermen to accept a part-time position as an administrative assistant on the executive staff of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

Morang's successor as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 8 will be selected by the members of the Aldermanic Board. Morang takes the place formerly held by Theodore Engel who resigned late last year. The job he fills carries a salary of $3750 a year.

Students To Do Odd Jobs As Aid To AFS Week Here

Saturday to Saturday, May 4 to 11, will be American Field Service Week in Newton.

On each Saturday, students from the Newton high schools will be available to Newton residents to rake lawns, wash cars and windows, baby-sit, or do odd jobs. The students will donate their earnings to the Newton A. F. S. committee. During the week, both high schools will hold cake sales to benefit A.F.S. Call Bigelow 4-7275 or LA 7-2244 after 4 p.m. if you want help.

American Field Service, started during World War I as an ambulance driving corps, is now the high school international exchange student program which has brought students from as far as Pakistan and Denmark to the Newton High Schools, and sent Newton youth as far as Norway and New Zealand.

A.F.S. is now sponsoring Teri Porcianski from Uruguay, who is living with the Jacob Siegels of 36 Nardell road, Newton Centre, and Andy Wezey of Uganda, living with the Richard Jarrells of 173 Allen avenue, Waban, at Newton South High School, and, at Newton High School, Tomoko Sumikawa, from Japan, who is currently one of the John Taplin family of 15 Sewell street, West Newton.

The A. F. S. Americans Abroad program sent Newton South Student Ruth Ann Bliss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bliss, 58 Vaughan avenue, Waban, to Italy and Judy Dietz of Newton High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz of 93 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre, to Germany in August, 1962. Judy returned in January, shortly before Bob Joyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Joyce, 11 Charlesbank terrace, Newton, also of Newton High, left for Chile, on the same plane as Yvonne Baginsky, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rolf G. Baginsky of 94 Ridge road, Waban, who normally attends Newton South, bound for Brazil.

Anne Brudevold, Debbie Stone, and Ellen Wexler of Newton South High, and Linda Harner, Gillian Rogell, and Tim Weiskel of Newton High, are A.F.S. candidates awaiting possible trips abroad for this summer or next fall. More and more American A.F.S. students spending a whole year with their foreign foster families; foreign students on the A.F.S. program have always spent a whole year in America. The A.F.S. program combines the two most effective ways of getting to know a country, living with one of its families, and attending its schools.

The Newton A.F.S. committee, made up of an adult branch, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olton, and student branches under Judy Dietz and Debbie Wheelock at Newton High, and Philip Kaplan and Alice Kuhl at Newton South, hopes that the May A.F.S. week will bring in the funds necessary to bring more foreign students here and consequently send more Newton students abroad in return. Student donations at Newton South have so far yielded about $400, at Newton High about $300. The committee must pay more than $750 for each foreign A.F.S. student attending the Newton High schools, and, depending on the student's ability to pay, up to $650 for each Newton student going abroad.

Individuals or groups who wish to contribute directly to Newton Chapter, American Field Service, may send checks to Donald M. Hill, Jr., treasurer, 24 Solon street, Newton Highlands 61, Mass.

Original Comedy By Wise Chapter

An original comedy, "A Freylich," to be presented in Temple Ohabel Shalom, Beacon St., Brookline, Sunday evening, May 15, will have Mrs. Edwin Chyten of Newton Centre heading the cast.

Child Guidance Clinic

The move for the establishment of a Child Guidance Clinic in Newton as part of the State's mental health program is an extremely worthwhile undertaking which deserves the support of every resident of the city.

As contemplated, the clinic would contain a therapeutic nursery school where troubled children could be helped with the most modern developments of medical science.

Mental illness no longer is a problem which can be disregarded, its victims shunted aside to some dark corner.

It is a medically accepted fact today that social maladjustment in children, school problems or severe learning difficulties are emotionally based. But these troubles can neither be treated nor prevented unless their causes are known.

Failure to provide proper treatment for a disturbed school child or sending the most troubled youngsters to reform school is little short of a crime against humanity in these times.

This is but one of the instances where a child guidance clinic can provide a vital community service.

A number of public-spirited Newton citizens are spearheading the drive to obtain such a clinic in our city. They need and deserve your support.

One way you can give your aid is by enrolling in the Newton Chapter of Action for Mental Health in Children. You can obtain the necessary information on how to enroll in the chapter by contacting Kenneth Huberman at 39 Homewood rd., Waban.

Political Highlights

What they have to decide is whether voting themselves a $2600-a-year salary increase is worth the political risk involved.

A roar of public protest would be certain to resound across the State if the legislative pay raise bill were approved without a rollcall vote. That could precipitate another move for a referendum on the issue.

This means that the legislators must stand up and record themselves on the issue of raising their own pay. Some of them are very unenthusiastic about the idea of doing that.

From the uneasy reaction of many law-makers there appears to be grounds for doubt that the $2600 raise proposed by Peabody will be voted.

Some legislators feel that they would put themselves in a better light with their constituents if they trimmed down Peabody's generous recommendation and gave themselves a smaller increase than the $2600 the Governor suggested.

That, however, is far from an ideal solution to the problem since in the process of making themselves look a little better by taking a lesser raise they would make the Governor or look a lot worse. Peabody in such a turn of events would be left in the position of having proposed a legislative wage hike which even the legislators considered too high.

Strong feeling exists in the legislative halls on the pay raise question. Many legislators want the increase, believe they are entitled to it and are prepared to stand up and vote for it. They take a dim view of their more timid colleagues who have developed cold feet on the proposition.

Another aspect to the situation is that if the legislators vote themselves a big increase, they'll have to do something

Second Thoughts On Beano Measure

There were plenty of flip-flops and second thoughts as the members of the House of Representatives this week killed the bill to bring back beano.

Last week by a vote of 115 to 109 the House members gave initial approval to a measure which would legalize beano.

After a weekend with their constituents, the law-makers did an about-face and defeated the bill 122 to 88.

A sizeable number of House members voted for the measure last week and against it this week.

The abrupt shifts may have been due in part to the realization that if the bill were approved by the House, it would be dropped down the legislative drain as soon as it reached the Senate.

But an unfavorable public reaction was probably the factor most responsible for causing a bloc of House members to change their minds.

There would be little objection to the beano games if they were completely controlled by the church, veteran and charitable organizations and run for worthy fund-raising purposes.

Racketeers, however, would quickly muscle in on the games with their sinister influences.

The beano racket had grown to such proportions before the game was outlawed a couple of decades ago that the racketeers in the background tried to get control of the city governments in some communities so there would be no interference with their operations.

Death Penalty Issue Not Election Factor

Some political experts have expressed the conviction that Governor Peabody's chances of achieving reelection would be lessened if the issue of repealing or retaining the death penalty is placed on the ballot in next year's election for a decision by the people.

They believe that a majority of Massachusetts citizens favor the retention of capital punishment and that if the question were made a campaign issue it would hurt Peabody who is a strong advocate of junking the electric chair.

Their appraisal may be correct, but it didn't work out that way last November when the graduated income tax referendum was on the ballot.

Peabody favored the graduated tax, and ex-Governor Volpe opposed it. So the voters knocked out the graduated tax by a landslide margin and then elected Peabody who favored it.

Volpe, of course, didn't capitalize on the graduated tax issue or link Peabody with it to the extent that he could have done.

But the Republican candidate opposing Peabody for the Governorship next year is not likely to pitch his campaign to the death penalty issue. That would involve a great deal of political risk.

A great many people apparently favor the retention of capital punishment—just as long as nobody is electrocuted.

Massachusetts Governors for the past 15 years have used one excuse after another to commute death sentences and avoid sending convicted murderers to the electric chair. None of them was ever hurt politically by doing so.

Thompson-Peabody Deal Seen In Works

Unpredictable Speaker John F. Thompson disarmed police chiefs and other foes of the abolition of capital punishment with some amazing double-talk last week.

On the night before the death penalty bill came up in the House, Thompson declared on television that he would take no part in the fight over the measure and would make no effort to persuade House members to vote for or against it.

He declared the question involved was a moral one, not a party or political issue, that each legislator should vote on it in accordance with his own convictions and without any pressure from the Speaker. He said he would not commit himself before the vote.

Exactly 48 hours later, Thompson left the Speaker's rostrum, took the yoor of the House, spearheaded the fight for the passage of the bill and shifted enough votes to win initial approval for the measure.

Those who heard Thompson on TV the night before watch-

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JOAN MOFENSON

The Saturday Morning Seminar Committee held its final program of the year last Saturday, with the future of the Nigeria the subject of discussion. The seminar was of special interest to both students and teachers since several Newton South faculty members participated in a study to aid in setting up a modern school system in Nigeria.

Principal Donald Davidson, who went to Nigeria last year in connection with the development of a school program, showed slides he had taken during his stay there.

Barry Brown and Sandra Bryant were recently announced as the editor-in-chief and managing editor, respectively, of the yearbook for next year. The other editors and staff members have not yet been chosen. Barry and Sandy were selected from among the many juniors who applied for positions on "Regulus."

Staff members of "Reflections," the combined art and literary magazine of the Newton High Schools, have begun collecting for advance sales. The magazine represents the best work of students in the fields of art, prose, poetry, and photography.

The Newton South Chapter of the National Honor Society held its induction Tuesday (April 23) during X-Block at a special assembly for the Sophomore Class and parents of the Society members. Randall Alfred, Deborah Glaser, Richard Rosen, and Jane Rosenthal spoke at the ceremony.

The Junior Class had an assembly recently at which Mr. Gordan Hall spoke on extrinsic groups in America.

The Girls' Athletic Association will sponsor a bowling party after school tomorrow (May 3) at Holiday Lanes. A swimming party is planned for the evening of May 10. The G.A.A. will use the Brookline High swimming pool. Under the direction of Ellie Jarrell, president, the members of the G.A.A. are organizing elections for next year.

May 4-11 will be a city-wide American Field Service week. The officers and members of A.F.S. have planned various fund-raising activities which will help pay for the expenses of exchange students. During the week, there will be a bake sale at which cakes made by teachers will be auctioned. The club members also plan to sell lollipops after school to the students near the bus stop area. May 4 and 11 will be workdays.

To stimulate interest in the activities of A.F.S., the officers, (Alice Kyhl and Phil Kaplan, co-chairmen; Steve Portnoy, treasurer; and Debbie Stone, secretary) and the NSHS exchange students, (Teri Porzecanski and Andy Wetzey), went to Day and Bigelow Junior High Schools recently. There they introduced the junior high students to the purpose and functions of A.F.S.

A lecture on the French Impressionists was given Tuesday by Miss Ardis Bourland, art teacher. The talk was primarily for the Art and French Club members but was open to all other interested students.

Thrift Shop Has Local Workers

Many Newton residents have given considerable time and energy to successful operation of the Thrift Shop of Boston, Inc., which holds its annual meeting tomorrow (Friday) in Trinity Neighborhood House, South Boston.

E. Medical Center, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and the Trinity Neighborhood House.

Local workers for the causes include: Mrs. William DeFord Beale, Mrs. George Higginson, Mrs. Langdon Parsons, Mrs. J. Brooks Fenno, Mrs. O. Bergen Rapalyea, Mrs. Morgan Campbell, Mrs. Robert C. Foster, Mrs. Edward A. Caredis, Mrs. John J. Byrne, and the Manager of the Shop, Mrs. Lois W. Humphrey.

Taxpayers Commend Aldermen For Work Toward A New Newton

Policies recently adopted or reaffirmed by the Board of Aldermen have been hailed by the Newton Taxpayers Association as "advances that help assure that the new Newton of five years from now can command all the respect old Newton has achieved."

Aldermen Harry H. Ham Jr., chairman of the Committee on Claims and Rules, and Earle D. Wood, chairman of the Committee on Finance, were individually cited in the association's special commendation of "work done by Newton's unpaid city officials who have borne the brunt of deciding, writing, conferring, reworking and adjusting many changes so that policies they represent could be properly articulated."

Decisions long advocated by the Association and now cited with approval are in the fields of land use and finance, as follows:

Making Residence D zone (garden apartments) more workable; establishing a true high-rise apartment zone with appropriate controls on business uses in such zones; adopting the new ordinance requiring off-street parking for new business construction; setting up the new Business AA zone for offices, motels, banks, etc.; backing the city-federal survey of "soft" land use areas; supporting the policies which have brought the growth of the city's debt under control; terminating an earlier "mercy-go-round" bonding policy for street construction and repair; work of the assessors on: "continuous revaluation periodically applied"; the 1963 break in steady tax rate increases, while maintaining an adequate surplus for contingencies.

Though the Taxpayers Association warns that the 60c reduction of the tax rate this year cannot be considered yet as being more than an interruption in the trend to higher rates, the Association reiterates its hopeful view that Newton need not have a $70 rate in the future.

Award Given Newton Youth

John Rooney of 290 Charles St., West Newton, a member of St. Bernard's Parish CYO, was among 21 young persons given the coveted Eagle of the Cross award for outstanding youth achievement at the fourth Archdiocesan Catholic Youth Congress in the Hotel Statler, Boston, Sunday evening. The medals were conferred by the Most Rev. Thomas J. Riley, auxiliary bishop of Boston, who was the banquet's principal speaker.

Scholarship Aids Would-Be Vet's Quick Recovery

News that he had been awarded a Cornell University scholarship, plus quick and expert action by his physician, and physical fitness acquired through participation in sports, all combined to effect rapid recovery of John Kiley, Our Lady's High School senior, whose life had been threatened by severe bleeding following surgery in Parker Hill Medical Center on a collapsed lung.

The scholarship, in the amount of $4800, will enable the 6 ft. 11 in. basketball to become a veterinarian, his ambition since childhood. The lad's father had high praise for the family physician, Dr. Pasquale Tedeschi of Newtonville, for saving the boy's life. Doctors at the hospital said John's good physical condition helped him through the ordeal.

He was an end on the school's football team, and also played hockey and baseball, in addition to basketball. Young Kiley wants to practice as a veterinarian in New England. He worked last summer at Angell Memorial Hospital to gain experience.

"Gus" Masow Fur Man Of Year

Julius L. "Gus" Masow of 80 Hillside Ave., West Newton, Boston fur merchant, will be honored as "Man of the Year" by the Boston Fur Club at its 29th annual dinner and dance in the Sheraton Plaza Saturday, May 4. He has been the club's secretary for 20 years, and has represented it on many occasions at local and national levels.

"Currently," he continues, "Lyons Playground, almost adjacent to the Park, provides acres of open space with recreational facilities. Edmunds Park, in Newtonville (Cabot Woods) is certainly not used to capacity. A sentimental reference is made to Leif Ericson, etc. Ericson is already memorialized by Norumbega Tower, across the river, on M.D.C. public park land with cook-out facilities, etc. In spite of the loss of taxable property due to toll road seizures, it would appear that proponents believe Newton can afford to maintain a great portion of Auburndale as a recreational and tax exempt luxury."

"Proponents, in their attempt to sell their scheme, refer to the value of outdoor experience for youth, provisions for boating, skating, Boy and Girl Scout activities, etc. Boating and skating are currently available on the Charles River. Boy and Girl Scout camping facilities are currently available within a few miles. The Park has been available for years as an outing spot for Newton residents whose patronage has provided insufficient support, probably due to automobiles providing a means of reaching other satisfactory recreation spots."

"The Park property, which can be a tremendous taxwise asset, should not be scratched from the rolls and added to the tremendous amount of existing tax exempt real estate now within Newton's borders, and adding to the costs of operation and maintenance," the weights and measures expert goes on.

"This is America where private enterprise should be encouraged and where government, in general, already owns excessive property. "I oppose the Newton-Norumbega Park referred to, and favor a high class and reasonably restricted use of the land for perhaps an apartment and/or motel development as has previously been proposed so that such will contribute to the support of the City instead of being a drain thereon."

PAINTING DESIGNS
When painting small designs on flat surfaces, draw designs on masking tape, cut out with a razor blade. The tape can then be pressed into position and used as a painting guide.

Camp Fire Girls Follow Active, Varied Program

The Newton District Camp Fire Girls are bringing their winter sessions to a close with service to each other, according to a statement from Camp Fire officials this week. The "older" Camp Fire Girls have been teaching, entertaining and introducing the younger members in the organization to its fine programming and traditions.

Former guardian Mrs. Harold (Ruth) Edinberg of Newton Centre, well-known drama coach, creator of the famous Stick Puppets, who was a member of the summer company of the Loeb Drama Centre, Cambridge, has just completed a six weeks Drama Workshop for the Okima Camp Fire Girls in Newton Centre.

These sixth grade Camp Fire Girls from the Mason-Rice and Bowen Schools, under the guardianship of Mrs. Peter Coogan, presented a mystery phantasy which they wrote, staged in costume and acted. They also designed and made their own backdrops for this play which was given after their course with Mrs. Edinberg. These girls are Cheryl Arslanian, Becky Bluestone, Becky Boardman, Ann Earthrowl, Carol Efron, Martha Epstein, Elizabeth Gans, Diane Kelley, Linda Klein, Deborah Lenz, Carol Lotto, Julie Morse, Hiroko Oishi, Janet Pearson, Paula Stone, Lynn Warschauer.

The Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Irving Wolf, Mrs. Edwin Rossman and Mrs. John Al-man, have invited all the sixth grade Camp Fire Girls from the Angier and Beethoven schools the Mason-Rice & Bowen and Davis schools to a tea on May 4 at the Methodist Church in Newton Centre. At this time, the Junior Hi Group will demonstrate and discuss some of their activities so that the sixth graders will become acquainted with the work of the Junior Hi groups.

An original puppet show will be used to illustrate some of their creative projects. The groups of the following guardians have been invited: Mrs. Lloyd Warschauer, Mrs. Peter Coogan, Mrs. Murray I. Rothman, Mrs. George Rubin, Mrs. Stanley Mervis.

Traditionally, most Camp Fire Girls in the third grade hold a May Festival each year. This year, the third grade Blue Birds from the Angier and Beethoven Schools have invited the second-grade new Blue Birds and will design and make the very colorful paper costumes, each one representing a flower. There will be May Basket Dances, Songs, and Refreshments. The third grade guardians are Mrs. Arnold Hiatt, Mrs. Herbert Salenko, Mrs. Myron Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Cooper, Mrs. Max Wool, Mrs. John DeSabbato, Mrs. Richard Kanter, Mrs. Philip Fine, and they have invited the groups of Mrs. William Waldman, Mrs. Albert Frager, Mrs. Marc Shambam, Mrs. Gordon F. Vawter is directing the girls in their songs and dances.

Big-Time Ball In Catholic League Play

Although Sacred Heart was pushed out of the undefeated ranks by Bishop Fenwick Monday on the latter's field, the week was by no means a gloomy one for the two local members of the Suburban Catholic League.

What with George Berry coming up with a no-hitter to beat Arlington Catholic High at Cabot Park Monday. Our Lady's story was pretty bright, despite a defeat at the hands of the Sacred Heart the previous Thursday, when Emil Nazaro, who had a no-hitter in the season's first start, continued his hot pace with a two-hitter.

That game was the fourth straight win for Sacred Heart in League play, and in it Nazaro also started with the bat, collecting a clutch double and accounting for three RBI's.

Newton Unites In Big Rally For Mental Health

Newton assumed a part of the National Rally Against Mental Illness as a result of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs' proclamation setting last Tuesday as Mental Health Day in this city, and calling on the citizens for full co-operation and support.

An enthusiastic meeting in City Hall's Memorial Auditorium at 8 climaxed the day. City Clerk Monte Basbas, who has long been active in philanthropic work, was chairman.

It was the first public meeting of the newly formed citizens group, "Action for Mental Health in Children." Basbas described the group's first objective as establishment of a child guidance center for Newton youngsters from all schools, public, private and parochial. Hope was expressed that the state mental health department would be a partner in the project just as is the case with more than 20 mental health centers in the Commonwealth.

Dr. Edward Landy, assistant superintendent of schools and professor of education at Harvard, described the proposed clinic's needs as seen by the school department.

In calling advance attention to the meeting, Mayor Gibbs had said that "It is in the interest of the community to foster activities designed to help troubled children, and those suffering from emotional and mental illness who can be helped with proper treatment."

Officer Tries Again For Disability Pension

Patrolman Michael J. Kennedy Jr., of Auburndale, whose application for compensation for a back injury was denied by the Retirement Board last month, has submitted another application, this one based on a claim of accidental disability based on a heart condition.

A medical panel has been appointed to pass on it.

American Field Service Week Set By Mayor

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has proclaimed May 4 as American Field Service Week, and urged adults and students of the community to "contribute generously to the foreign exchange programs of our high schools, and to get to know the foreign students, and to help them understand Newton life."

In the official proclamation, the mayor states that, "We believe the young people of the United States and all countries want to live and raise their children in a peaceful world open to free exchange of customs and ideas, and understanding of one people by another must come through informal personal contact and cannot be brought about solely by government procedures."

Public Apathy—

tin, all of whom agreed that more public concern is needed.

Alderman William Carmen, chairman of the Newton Housing Authority, also stressed the need for public interest and participation. "What is done in this area (public housing), in the area of discrimination, and in the area of preservation of open spaces depends on the desires of the citizens," he stated.

"I don't think there is enough expression of interest on the part of the public. The important thing is that groups like the Fair Housing Committee must develop positive programs and aggressive leadership to advance their ideas."

He described the development of the Newton Housing for the Elderly program from its beginning, when it was aimed primarily at a modest number of retired civil servants, to its current status, with 64 units opened and filled last week, 33 units in construction and already spoken for, and 28 units already assigned for which a site has not yet been selected — thus completing the 125 units of its original authorization.

"The average length of residency in Newton of these families is 40 years, and one-third of them were born in this city." There are still 317 applicants left who fulfill all criteria. To help meet this demand, the Authority has a request for authorization to build 100 more units pending before the Board of Aldermen which it hopes will be acted upon quickly, he said.

Charles E. Downe, Newton's planning consultant, said: "During World War II when there was no new building and a severe housing shortage, zoning violations were sort of ignored. Many substandard apartments were created and enforcement never really picked up again."

"If enforcement was desired and was handled correctly, we might eliminate some of this poor housing."

"There are rhymes and reasons for all these city actions. They are related and coordinated. Requests for zoning change are evaluated against these questions, among others: Does the particular zone change appear to be consistent with the neighborhood and what is now in it?" he said.

He described the city as virtually completely built up within its present character. It cannot expand much more, he felt, without drastically changing this character.

Mrs. Helen Kistin, the panelist on Middle Income Housing, said, "We are used to thinking of Newton as a very rich city, but this is because of its high median income, and its many people with very high incomes. On the other hand, in 1960, 6 per cent of the families in Newton total money incomes of less than $3,000, and another 10 per cent had incomes between $3,000 and $4,000."

"The city should think very carefully before beginning any renewal or highway projects—if it has a choice—without making provision for those displaced. Equivalent housing, either rental or sales, is simply not available any place in the area," she said.

from all over the world. These fashions were designed and made in Israel by ORT students and in other countries of North Africa, Europe and the Middle East.

When these fashions were displayed in New York before leading fashion experts and editors, actual exclamations of amazement were heard in the show room. W. S. Pratt To Head Streets Temporarily

The resignation of Street Commissioner Frank K. Perkins was accepted by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs as of last Monday, and the city is on the lookout for a replacement.

It had been intended to extend his term through November, but the commissioner asked for an earlier retirement because of ill health.

The Mayor announced that Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt would act as street commissioner until a successor is appointed.

It was "with regret" that Mayor Gibbs complied with Mr. Perkins' request for immediate retirement, and he expressed appreciation of the commissioner's service to the city during eight years.

He was appointed in December, 1954, by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and was continued in office under the Civil Defense Law when he passed the retirement age of 70. Mayor Gibbs reapointed him for a year as an emergency measure when that law was repealed last October.

The former commissioner served as a consultant for the "Baby Hoover" Commission, and was a member of the committee for the new state office building. He is a World War I veteran.

St., Auburndale, clerk.

Friday's Games Won By Both High Schools

Newton High and Newton South High School nines got back onto the winning side of the ledger last Friday, when the South team overcame Brookline on their home field 6-0, and the older high school, playing at Weymouth, defeated Weymouth 4-3.

In the former game, Bruce and Doug MacLean, who are not related, combined to pitch shutout ball. They allowed only three hits while striking out five.

It was good hitting by Center Fielder Bari and Catcher Marini, coupled with good pitching by Beard that accounted for Newton High's victory.

It was Newton South's second win in two days, the boys having knocked over the Weymouth team Apr. 24 by a score of 4-0, with Jeff Sones supplying a one-hitter on the mound.

That same day, Newton Tigers lost 4-2 to unbeaten Brockton High on the shoe city diamond.

Newton Plans Final Phase Of Polio Immunization Campaign

The final series of adult polio immunization clinics, for Type III oral vaccine, will be held in Newton for three days, Sunday, May 19, Wednesday, May 22 and Sunday, May 26th, according to plans formulated at a meeting of the executive group of the Citizens Polio Immunization Committee held recently.

Type III clinics for pre-school children will be held May 13 through the 17th.

Adult clinics will be held at City Hall, the Warren Junior High School, and Oak Hill School. Clinics for school children will be held at their respective schools, public, parochial and private.

Clinic hours for adults are as follows: Sunday, May 19, 2 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, May 22, 7 to 9 p.m., and Sunday, May 26, 2 to 5 p.m. All pre-school clinics will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Parents of pre-school children age three months and up are asked to bring their youngsters to the elementary school clinic in their immediate vicinity.

Should some parents find it impossible to take advantage of the scheduled pre-school clinics, they can bring their children to the adult clinics, where special arrangements will be made to administer the oral vaccine feedings to the youngsters.

May 13 — Burr School — 46

Ash St., Auburndale; Carr School — 225 Nevada St., Newtonville; Countryside School — 191 Dedham St., Newton Highlands; Davis School — 492 Waltham St., West Newton; Mason-Rice School — 149

Inform The Voters Is Democratic Aim

"The Peabody Program at the Grassroots" will be the subject of a public meeting of the Newton Democratic City Committee on Thursday evening, May 16 at 8:00 p.m., at the Claffin School, 465 Lowell Ave., Newton.

Designed to explore proposals advanced by Governor Endicott Peabody on taxes, education and governmental reform, the meeting will also stress the need of informed opinion at the grassroots level and methods of political involvement open to the citizen seeking participation in government.

Leading the discussion will be former Mayor of Pittsfield Robert Capeless; constitutional reform expert Maurice

M. Goldings, and Prof. Kermit C. Morrissey of Brandeis University, chairman of the Board of Regional Community Colleges.

Describing the meeting as a "pilot attempt" on the part of Democrats to "cut through political static on the state level to the heart and purpose of the Peabody program", Lawrence E. Cooke, Newton Democratic City Chairman invited all Newton citizens, whatever their political affiliation, to attend the May 16th meeting.

Mr. Capeless is former Massachusetts Commissioner of Taxation and serves presently as Advisor on Fiscal Affairs to Governor Peabody.

Mr. Goldings is a member of the Executive Committee, Greater Boston Young Democratic Club and Counsel to the Massachusetts Special Commission on Revision of the Constitution. He serves also as General Counsel to the Council for Constitutional Reform in Massachusetts.

Prof. Morrissey was State Budget Commissioner from 1959 to 1960. He is executive assistant to the president of Brandeis University.

They are Representatives Joseph G. Bradley, John W. Whittemore, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., and Irving Fishman.

Auto Sticker Deadline Near

Time is rapidly running out for those laggard local motorists who have been tardy in obtaining the official 1963 green inspection sticker adornment for their car's windshield.

Registrar Riley has issued another reminder of the approaching May 15th deadline. In fact, Registry personnel have slipped cards under automobile wipers to warn their owners of the failure to show the green square.

Many motorists each year are summoned into court and pay fines for negligence in this respect. Get that car inspected now!

100 Units Are Voted For Elderly

After a number of aldermen had expressed great satisfaction with the Cook St. 64-unit housing complex for elderly families of low income, the Board voted 19 to 1 Monday night to approve a petition of the Newton Housing Authority for an additional 100 units whose location as yet has not been designated.

All who spoke in the petition's favor said they had attended the Cook St. facility's open house on Sunday, Apr. 21, and had been tremendously impressed by everything they saw. And all emphasized the need for providing adequate housing for the city's many elderly residents, some of whom are quartered in makeshift facilities over stores or in apartments that have been converted from old office buildings.

Earle D. Wood, to whose Finance Committee the petition had been referred, declared that it was not properly a financial matter and not

The Graphic In New Type Dress Today

The Graphic greets its readers today in a new and modern "dress" emphasizing a growing trend in newspaper front-page makeup, format, headline types and nameplate "flag."

Today's composition - minded layout experts want their pages to breathe. "Give 'em air" is the theme.

This is in contrast to the policy still followed by many newspapers which employ the old-fashioned piled-up, suffocating kind of front page. The Graphic long since departed from the hackneyed in front page design and this week is happy to present something sparkling and new to its readers.

Mayor Gibbs Declares Third-Term Candidacy

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs formally announced today that he will seek reelection in November to a third two-year term as Newton's chief municipal executive.

Whether Gibbs will face any opposition in the coming campaign is not yet known. No prospective candidates have indicated their intention of challenging him.

Gibbs declared that he will stand for another term on the record he has made since he assumed the office of Mayor on Jan. 1, 1960.

While listing the achievements of his administration, generally regarded as one of the best in Massachusetts, Mayor Gibbs expressed the hope that he will be able to carry several unfinished projects through to completion.

Heading the list of such undertakings, he asserted, is the possible implementation of the Federal-City Urban Renewal Survey which is due to be completed within a short time.

"It is considered unlikely at this time that public monies will be involved," the Mayor said, "but considerable effort will be required to attract private capital with which to carry out the probable recommendations of the Survey in the upgrading and refurbishing of the areas involved."

A major unsolved problem confronting the city, Gibbs stated, is the incinerator question.

"Because of the stringency of State Department of Public Health relations in regard to dumping, we are using space at the new Rumford avenue dump at a far greater rate than we should," Gibbs explained.

"The inadequacies of the present incinerator in not being able to accept some refuse and in failing to completely incinerate that which it will accept are compounding the problem," Gibbs continued.

Honors Given Local Doctor

Two signal honors were conferred this past week on Dr. Ferdinand L. Rousseve of 135 Waban Hill Rd., Newton, architect and professor of Fine Arts and chairman of the Fine Arts Department of Boston College.

He was selected by the editorial board for inclusion in the forthcoming 33d edition of Who's Who in America, and his long service to his communities and to the program of the National Urban League received public recognition at the League's annual meeting in Boston.

Dr. Rousseve has been listed for several years in Who's Who in the East, as well as in several other significant and scholarly directories.

For more than 25 years he was a member of the Urban League's Board of Trustees. He is a past president of both the national and Greater Boston Urban Leagues. He helped organize the New Orleans Urban League, and served a three-year term as a trustee

One of the outstanding accomplishments cited by the Mayor has been the improvement he has achieved in Newton's financial condition.

He has lowered the city's debt from a high of $20,273,000 to $17,209,000. This reduction of more than 3 million in the last two years showed its effect when the amount allowed in this year's budget for debt requirements was $185,000 less than last year.

3 Schools Will Handle Pupils Evicted By Fire

The 203 pupils of Horace Mann School, evicted from the 66-year-old structure by fire which virtually destroyed it Saturday, have been reassigned to three other schools pending construction of a new one across the way at Albe-Marle and Watertown Sts., and should be able to go into the new quarters by September of 1964, if plans discussed Monday night in City Hall are followed.

A meeting called by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs was held immediately following the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen, its object to put a crash program into effect for a new school to replace the one burned.

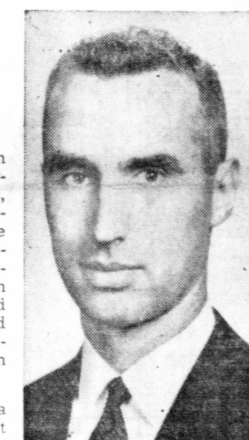

At the meeting, in addition to the mayor and the aldermen, were school officials, members of the mayor's advisory committee and of the committee on public buildings, the building commissioner and Hoskin Brown, an architect. The latter submitted rough sketches of the proposed new structure, and preliminary sketches will be drawn shortly.

The mayor asked for a timetable in order to be kept informed of progress. It was his wish that all possible red-tape would be cut so construction could start this fall and the new building would be ready for classes next year.

Peabody's Political Stock Now Rated At Rock Bottom

Governor Peabody's political stock appears to be lower today than at any time since he assumed the direction of the State government.

Peabody's all-out battle for the abolition of capital punishment brought a generally unfavorable public reaction.

Those who viewed it as a great and gallant fight by a never-say-die Governor seem to be in a very decided minority. More people would like to see him get on with the business of running the State and start doing some of the things he talked about in his campaign.

He may be able to recoup his fallen fortunes and regain some of his lost popularity, but it will take a lot of doing.

notable achievement which reversed the upward trend of the rate during the past decade.

The lowering of the rate was accomplished even though toll road valuations were absorbed, pay raises granted to municipal employees, essential city services expanded and capital equipment upgraded.

A salary and job survey has been completed by an outside consulting firm and its recommendations put into effect, creating a more equitable salary picture for city employees.

Mayor Gibbs pointed out that there has been some broadening of employee benefits in an effort to approach those offered by private industry but added that there is much still to be accomplished in that field.

He expressed the opinion, for example, that an extremely inequitable condition exists in regard to Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage of retired employees.

Half the cost of the coverage of regular employees is paid by the city, whereas those employees who retired after Aug. 1, 1959, must pay the entire expense themselves if they want the coverage continued, the Mayor declared as he cited this as an example of an inequity which should be corrected.

Even worse, he said, those who retired prior to Aug. 1, 1959, have no coverage at all.

Mayor Gibbs disclosed that he will shortly recommend that all retired employees be given the same benefits in Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage as are extended to those now on the city payroll. He said he feels this essential protection should not be cut off for the retired workers at a time in their lives when they are most likely to need it.

The Mayor reported that a careful and thorough upgrading of administrative procedure has been going on for some time under his direction.

Mayor Gibbs, in reviewing his direction of the city government during the past three years and four months, said it has been his policy to seek out and hire the most qualified persons for major positions.

As an example he cited the employment of Vincent D. Burns as Building Commissioner, Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf as Director of Public Health and John B. Penney as Recreation Commissioner.

Major innovations during the Gibbs administration include the establishment of a Traffic Commission and Election Commission.

The Newton Housing Authority recently completed and opened for occupancy 64 units of low-cost housing for elderly persons on Cook street and has started work on 33 more units on Parker street.

A comprehensive Parking Control Ordinance, requiring adequate off-street parking facilities for any new buildings or additions to existing structures, has been adopted.

Probably the greatest problem with which the Gibbs administration has had to cope has been the impact of the Toll Road extension on Newton. The Mayor voiced the opinion that he has been able to minimize the severity of this gash down the city's backbone to as great an extent as possible.

The Mayor reported that plans for a new fire station in Newton Corner to replace one taken by the Turnpike Authority are well under way. Construction also is about to start, he said, on the new firehouse at Commonwealth ave. and Washington st. This will replace the old West Newton station taken to make way for the Toll Road as well as the station at Beacon and Washington sts. and the Auburndale station.

This consolidation will increase rather than decrease fire protection in the area, Gibbs stated.

Plans for two new elementary schools, additions and renovations to several others and an expansion of Newton North High School are in various stages, the Mayor reported.

The city shortly will acquire the facilities of the Peabody Home for Crippled Children in Oak Park which will be used for the instruction of retarded children.

Other projects in which Mayor Gibbs presently is engaged include a survey of the entire Newton Free Library system and a proposed comprehensive study of the city's recreational facilities.

Mr. Gibbs has had extensive experience in both business and government. He served on the Board of Aldermen and in both branches of the State Legislature before his election as Mayor.

He is vice-president of the Kendall Paper Co., a former treasurer and director of Waterproof Papers, Inc., and Laminated Papers, Inc., a past president and treasurer of the New England Paper Merchants' Association, treasurer and a director of the Bryant & Stratton School, which he attended after graduating from Newton High School, and a director of the Newton National Bank and a trustee of the West Newton Savings Bank.

Finger Of Guilt Points

It's that happy time again. The motoring population, long inhibited and restrained by winter driving discomforts, takes to the far-flung and open roads, open except for those still suffering major and unhealed construction wounds.

Soon the gay resort season will be upon us, an added inducement to jam the family into the automobile and take to the cluttered highways. It's that happy time—also the heedless time for many motorists who are destined to become accident statistics.

These are the ladies and gentlemen, of all ages, who will become pawns in the annual American outdoor pastime of highway roulette.

Despite safety campaigns however well-intentioned, car accessories including safety-belts, the one ingredient not built into any car is the priceless characteristic known as "mature judgement on the part of the driver." The lack of this ingredient can be blamed for the majority of motoring accidents and fatalities.

Last year, 87 percent of all highway deaths and accidents are traced directly to lack of mature judgement or human error.

Lack of mature driving judgement is evidenced every day on every street and highway. It is revealed by temper tantrums, impatience, lack of courtesy and outright heedlessness on the part of drivers, disregard for posted signs, pedestrians and the other fellow's right to his piece of the road.

It is becoming an increasingly popular theory among safety officials that despite built-in safety gadgets on cars, better highways and expanded safety program, the death toll on the highways will continue to climb until some acceptable test can be written and developed which will measure basic mature judgement and which will be administered to all applicants for driving licenses. It might not be a bad idea to make it compulsory even for those already holding licenses.

The entire problem is rapidly reaching the stage where sugar-coated remedies are not solving the problem. This is life and death and serious, as any epidemic of a deadly disease.

That the modus operandi has been ineffective up to now can be seen in the awesome official statistics that highway deaths jumped from 37,600 in 1961 to 40,500 in 1962, with a greater toll anticipated this year. This frightful and needless waste of life points the finger of guilt at the drivers and their lack of judgement. Will it point at you?

New Parking Fines Adopted By Alderman

A new schedule of fines for motor vehicle law violations as recommended by its Street Traffic Committee, was approved Monday night by the Board of Aldermen.

It calls for levies of $3, $4 and $5 for first, second and third offenses. Eliminated is the Street Traffic Commission's recommendation that first offenders be given a warning only.

The measure was reported out by Alderman William M. Glovsky, traffic committee chairman. The vote for its adoption was unanimous, and it now goes to the committee on Claims and Rules prior to its being drawn up as an ordinance.

Glovsky explained that the minimum $3 fine would be imposed for overtime meter or overnight parking, parking at taxi stands or delivery areas would draw the $4 fine, and the $5 impost would be for parking at hydrants.

Coincidence of Inaction

Editor, Newton Graphic:

It seems quite coincidental that three important civic improvements have come to a complete stall in the mire of procedure at City Hall.

It is over one year since the Mayor expressed the dire need of a new city incinerator to replace the outmoded facility now in use. The closing of dumping areas and the lack of correct burning equipment prompted the Board of Aldermen to pass the issue in the closing days of 1962. Due to an oversight of a few dollars in the appropriation and a few parliamentary moves, the issue is still unresolved. Here, five months later, we read that the absence of certain aldermen at important voting sessions will probably stall the issue until next year.

Last week, we read of the unnecessary delay in the appropriation of funds for the needed rehabilitation of Newton High School and the additions of playrooms at the Carr and Hyde Schools. In this case, the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor and the School Committee cannot agree on who is supposed to "originate the legislation." The city solicitor, who has been called in so many times in the above mentioned incinerator problem, has been asked to settle this procedural dispute. Again, the people of Newton wait for facilities that are long overdue.

It has been almost two years since the voters of Newton expressed the desire to have the drinking water fluoridated. After many months of delay and procrastination, the city has not yet taken the final steps to implement the desires of the electorate. The simple mechanical buildings needed for the purpose could have been in use many months ago if prompt action were taken when the matter was approved.

The City of Newton has always been known for its efficient city government and the dedication of its municipal officials. Let us continue to merit this well earned reputation.

Why Peabody involved himself so deeply in a drive to wipe out the death penalty is an unsolved mystery on Beacon Hill.

One theory is that Peabody enjoys the role of underdog and believes he can make political hay by championing losing causes.

Whatever his reasons may have been, most political observers believe that Peabody used poor judgment and that his stature has been lessened.

It isn't so much that Peabody did himself any great political harm by strongly advocating the repeal of the death penalty even though tests of sentiment indicate that a majority of the people favor the retention of capital punishment.

Neither has any lasting damage been done to Peabody's prestige by the rebuffs administered to him by the House of Representatives which is overwhelmingly dominated by members of his own party.

What hurt Peabody's public image most was the manner in which he waged his fight and the tactics employed by him and Speaker John F. Thompson in their efforts to accomplish the passage of the repeal bill.

Thompson on the basis of his own actions and statements obviously has no strong personal convictions on the death penalty issue. He has voted on both sides of the question in the past.

He was merely acting as an agent for Peabody in the drive he spearheaded to get the measure through the House. It is assumed that he waged the fight he did because he had a deal with Peabody that he would be appointed to an important job either this year or next.

His tactics in striving to achieve his objective reflected poorly on Peabody.

The impression that Peabody was wheeling and dealing and using his patronage power in his attempt to knock out the death penalty has turned many people against the Governor.

Whether capital punishment should be abolished is basically a moral question on which different people have different views. Most persons, regardless of how strong their own convictions may be, respect opposing opinions on this issue.

To dangle patronage before a legislator in an endeavor to persuade him to vote to wipe out the death penalty when he believes it should be retained is hardly a noble or lofty action.

Thompson himself declared in a television interview that the legislators should be allowed to vote in accordance with their own convictions and beliefs on the death penalty bill without even the pressure of knowing how the Speaker was going to vote.

There was little similarity, of course, between what Thompson said should be done and what he himself did 24 hours later when he exerted about as much pressure on the House members as he could bring to bear.

Peabody, who tried to oust Thompson from the Speakership last January, lauded him for his great fight.

There were some unusual aspects to the long and determined drive Peabody made to abolish capital punishment.

One was that Peabody stirred up so much ill feeling in the House that he may have jeopardized parts of his own program while battling over an issue which was not in his program and which he didn't even mention in his inaugural address.

A second was that Peabody was supporting an amendment to the State Constitution which would limit legislative sessions to not more than six months at the same time he was engaging in a needlessly long struggle which saw virtually all other business shunted aside in the House for almost three weeks and certainly prolonged this session of the Legislature.

In a recent address Peabody demanded that the Massachusetts press "pull up its socks and start doing its job." None of us is immune from criticism, and perhaps that's sound advice.

Peabody apparently blames the newspapers and their reporters for some of the trials and tribulations he has encountered as Governor.

It already is apparent, however, that officials and employees in some areas of government are not going to take the law too seriously until someone is fined or sent to jail for ignoring it.

An important point brought out at a meeting held by Attorney General Edward W. Brooke was that a ruling by a local official does not carry immunity from the law.

Peabody's Pet Reform Is Headed for Defeat

Governor Peabody's pet constitutional reform — a proposal for abolishing the Executive Council — is headed for defeat in the Legislature.

It isn't that anyone holds the Council in very high esteem, but rather that it's essential for some elected body to confirm a Governor's appointment, especially to the judiciary.

Senate President John E. Powers makes a very convincing case to show why this authority should not be transferred to the Senate which he heads.

Apart from the unwieldy procedure of having a Governor's nominations considered and debated by 40 Senators, a constitutional requirement of separation of powers between the executive and legislative branches of the government also would be violated.

It's easy to urge the abolition of the Governor's Council, but it's more difficult to offer a workable plan for the transfer of its functions. Peabody has done the first, but not the second.

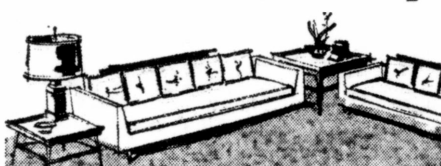

Whether the recommendation for a six-months limitation on the length of the legislative session will be approved is uncertain.

Actually, the proposal is not a sound one. The Legislature should take whatever time is needed to do its job properly, whether that be five months or 10 months.

If this is the best Legislature in the 50 States, as Peabody himself has declared, there is no need for putting a time limit on its deliberations.

What the six-months limitation would achieve would be a wild melee on the last nights in June, when bills would be speeding through to passage without the legislators knowing what they were voting on. That would be chaos, not reform.

Because of the loyalty of Newton readers, this newspaper feels that by adopting new ideas in news presentation, a more interesting product can be delivered each week.

White space around news type, headlines and cuts has been discovered by advertising agencies for newspaper and magazine copy. The notion has seeped into the minds of some publishers and editors, although many still practice the techniques of the horse-and-buggy days with type jammed on type to produce an unappealing, unreadable mess.

Inside pages of The Graphic will be fashioned along the same modern trend. It will create a more readable paper with increased emphasis on the eye-appealing factors of modern design.

It's our way of saying "Thank You" for loyal support given The Graphic through the years since 1872.

"MEMOS" FROM YOUR Stylist

MR. CORY OF CONTINENTAL
It seems to be the belief of many women with oily scalps that to brush the hair only serves to increase the oiliness. On the contrary, brushing of hair and scalp is necessary to strengthen and tone the scalp muscles so important in the control of scalp fluids, and to improve scalp circulation. To avoid brushing is to worsen the condition through more rapid thinning of the hair. It is highly advisable to use only a natural-bristle brush, not the nylon-bristle types so common these days.

Still on the subject of hair, might we suggest that you get acquainted with the brand of styling you can expect at CONTINENTAL COIFFEURS? Our stylists and operators can help you to satisfactorily solve any hair problem. Make your appointment today at CONTINENTAL COIFFEURS - 2 locations for your convenience - 24 Lansley Rd., Newton Centre, Phone WO 9-8317, and 1271 Washington St., West Newton, Phone LA 7-9329.

THIS WEEK'S HELPFUL HINT: Some women keep a few packages of tinting powder with their hair. In a pinch, hair can then be colored to match a particular outfit.

Accept Morang Resignation With Regret

At the suggestion of President Wendell R. Bauckman, Alderman Charles H. Morang's resignation to take effect immediately was accepted "with regret" by the Board of Aldermen Monday night. Said Bauckman: "A more devoted member of the Board has never existed. He has worked with us harmoniously and pleasantly, and we wish him great success in his new venture. We are glad that he is going to stay around City Hall."

Morang resigned to accept appointment as executive assistant to the administrative staff of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs. Earle D. Wood's suggestion that Bauckman and Theodore D. Mann, Ward 8 alderman, be assigned to finding a successor was accepted by the Board.

$45 Is Average Rent For Elderly

Housing Authority William Carmen has found that nearly all the families in the city's first complex for the elderly of low income on Cook St. will pay only $45 monthly rent, a reduction from $55 made possible by a federal subsidy of up to $10 a month per unit. Mr. Carmen pointed out that the average income for the 64 families is less than $1800 a year, but that a few of them will pay rent slightly higher than $45 because of a regulation that 20 percent of a family's income must be spent for rent.

Pupils

sioner Vincent D. Burns inspected the fire-ravaged building and designated it uninhabitable.

Throughout Saturday and Sunday, Supt. Charles E. Brown and John E. Gilliland, director of school business services, arranged for reassigning the Mann pupils. Thirty-seven kindergarten pupils are being accommodated at the Carr School, 83 in Grades 1 to 3 are going to the Stearns School, and 85 in Grades 3 to 6 are in classrooms at the Oak Hill School. Bus transportation has been provided.

Minutes after the alarm was sounded Saturday by the Mann School's sprinkler system, Edward H. Yeagle, 25, of 62 Kensington St., Newtonville, was caught by Sgt. John J. Bartinelli as he ran from the scene. Police say he has had treatment for a mental condition, and in their opinion he broke a school window after climbing a fire escape and set fire to a flag and several books in a classroom. They say several books of matches were found in his possession. Yeagle was sent to the Medfield State Hospital for mental tests by Judge W. Lyoid Allen in Newton District Court.

$20,000 Check To Hospital

Mrs. James V. Sidell, of Newton, president of the Brookline Hospital Women's Auxiliary, last week presented a check for $20,000 to the hospital on behalf of the auxiliary.

The presentation took place at the 22nd anniversary, luncheon and fashion show of the organization held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, attended by more than 1000 women. Rubin Epstein, of Chestnut Hill president of the hospital, accepted the contribution which will go towards the hospital's current three-quarter million dollar expansion program.

Mrs. Sidell, auxiliary president, paid high tribute to the efforts of the luncheon chairmen, Mrs. Herbert Carver, also of Newton, and her mother, Mrs. Epstein.

She called attention to the fact that only last year her organization completed payment of a $125,000 pledge to the hospital which provided a complete surgical suite.

Mrs. Carver, one of the youngest chairmen ever to head the annual luncheon, explained that the auxiliary aids the hospital in other ways besides that of capital fund gifts. Elderly properly one for his committee. It belonged with the Board as a whole, he said, and therefore his committee had made no recommendation. "We should be prepared to go all the way," he said, "and provide as many as 1000 units if so great a number is found to be necessary."

Melvin J. Dangel said there were 317 applications for elderly housing occupancy, all of them qualified. The fact that a number of homes in the vicinity of the Cook St. complex were being upgraded, he said, was proof that the site had been well chosen.

Joseph G. Bradley said the new complex had won 100 percent acceptance, and he reminded the Board that Newton was not entirely a Garden City, but one with trouble spots that needed attention.

Said Harry L. Whalen: "The humanitarian aspects here are manifest and should not be ignored. What we have done is good humanitarianism, not charity." During the debate, which was pretty well one-sided, being all favorable to the construction of more housing for the elderly, it was brought out that the city benefits tax-wise from such construction in two ways — adjacent properties are upgraded, thereby increasing their value, and the city receives payment in lieu of taxes which washes out the loss from property taken for the housing construction.

OK Given Hicks St. Relocation

Now that the Planning Board has approved the Hicks St., West Newton, subdivision for relocation of families dispossessed by the toll road extension, only one hurdle remains to be cleared — Zoning Board of Appeals granting of waivers to permit lots that would not conform to existing provisions.

At a public hearing last month there were a number of objectors to the waivers.

The Planning Board approved plans for a new Hicks St. — from Prospect St. to Curve St., and waived the 45-ft. width, reducing their requirement to 40 feet.

Fair Housing Committee To Discuss Real Estate

What happens to real estate values when non-white families buy or rent properties in an all-white neighborhood? This is the subject for discussion at a meeting of the Brookline Fair Housing Practices Committee Thursday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in the Denny room of the Train Health Center, Harvard and Pierce Sts.

A 20-minute film, "Property Values and Race" will be shown to present the basic facts of a research report made at the University of California.

In announcing the meeting Robert C. Holtzapfel, Jr., chairman of the Brookline Fair Housing Practices Committee, maintained that misconceptions about the effect of race on property values play a part in the discrimination in housing in the Greater Boston area. Mr. Holtzapfel said today that a thorough discussion of the available facts on property values and race is particularly important at this time. Passage of new "fair housing" legislation by the Massachusetts General Court during the current session will extend coverage to all housing with the exception of owner-occupied two family units.

Two Nabbed On Dope Charge

According to police, ex-fighter William B. Murray and Ronald Montier entered the Park Pharmacy on Washington St. and attempted to purchase narcotics. The pair entered the Cypress Pharmacy across the street and attempted to make a narcotics purchase from pharmacist Irving Bloom who also refused to make the sale.

Alerted by Cohen's call five officers caught the pair as they walked along School St. toward Harvard St.

Students Can Apply For Many Scholarships

Application forms for the various types of scholarships offered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts are now available at all secondary schools, accredited colleges, universities and nursing schools in the state, the Massachusetts Scholarship Boards announce.

There are two types of programs available, both of which offer financial assistance in the form of grants to needy and academically worthy students. The Board of Educational Assistance helps students who plan to attend, or are currently enrolled in accredited undergraduate colleges from Freshman year through Senior Commencement. Students just entering such colleges must have taken the College Entrance Examination Board test and must have been accepted by the college of their choice. Upperclassmen must be in acceptable academic standing. This Board also assists students who have completed their undergraduate studies and are working for Masters or Ph.D. degrees. All applicants for such assistance must be domiciled in Massachusetts.

The other type of program is made available through the Medical, Dental and Nursing Scholarship Board. Students in the fields of medicine or dentistry must be enrolled in accredited graduate schools. Pre-medical or pre-dental students should apply to the Board of Educational Assistance. Nursing students may be enrolled in either the three or four year nursing programs. All freshman applicants must have taken one of the respective entrance examinations, and they must have been accepted by the institution of their choice.

Applicants for these grants must have resided in Massachusetts at least four years prior to acceptance of an award.

Students enrolled at out-of-state institutions should contact the Massachusetts Scholarship Board, 200 Newbury Street, Boston 16, to obtain forms. To be considered, students must submit completed applications to their school officials prior to June 1, 1963. Successful applicants will be informed of their awards during the month of August.

Competition High In Real Estate

"There is no pot of gold at the end of the real estate rainbow," declares Milton H. Shaw, president of the Greater Boston Real Estate Board, and in support of that contention he points out that next month there will be 442 licensed brokers and salesmen who live in the community competing for the estimated 123 sales of residential properties in the Newtons.

Calling the field badly overcrowded, he lays the condition to the fact that so many persons have obtained a broker's or salesman's license on the assumption that the real estate field is "a soft touch for making a quick million or for supplementing income in spare time."

400 Attend Banquet Of Teachers' Group

Newton Teachers Association banquet held May 1 at Valle's Steak House drew 350 teachers and a number of guests, including Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Mrs. Gibbs and members of the School Committee, Board of Aldermen, PTA Council and their wives.
President Richard M. Adams introduced the guests. Greetings to the teachers and guests were brought by William H. Hebert of the Massachusetts Teachers Association, Dr. John Sullivan, regional representative of the National Education Association, Mayor Gibbs, School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman and Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools.
A citation for distinguished service to the organization was presented to Miss Ruth M. Twiss who is retiring this year. Miss Twiss was one of the founders of the organization. She has served in many capacities through the years, including a term as president.
Richard D. Batchelder, retiring president of the association, introduced the speaker, Dr. Ole Sand, director of Instructional Program Project of the National Education Association.
Dr. Sand, who will be on the faculty at Stanford this summer, described the work of the NEA in developing studies of American education. He outlined 12 issues in education that confront Americans and suggested ways of thinking about some of these.
He acknowledged that mathematics and science are basic to our survival but went on to raise the question: "Why survive if one is not to have a life of taste and grace?" He emphasized that the schools must begin to plan the program for each student, must coordinate the efforts of the specialists and teachers in their work with the individual, and must provide for each student a close counseling relationship with a competent teacher who knows him well. Dr. Sand concluded his address with a quotation from Abraham Lincoln, "He who would kindle another must himself glow."
A feature of the evening was the Newton Teacher Coloring Book. This was written and illustrated by Mrs. Katherine to heal him

You can find your way back to health if you will prayerfully follow the instructions contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. In this great book you will find a full explanation of the method of Christian Science healing.

Christian Science holds unwaveringly to the truth in the first chapter of Genesis that "God saw every thing that He had made, and behold, it was very good." Thus Christian Science restores the invalid to health.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

Papal Blessing Given at DeVirgilio - Clodi Wedding

Miss Lorraine Ann Clodi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Clodi of 18 Amesbury street, West Roxbury, became the bride of Frank Robert DeVirgilio, son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeVirgilio of 15 Firth road, Roslindaie, at a recent 10 o'clock nuptial mass at St. Theresa's Church.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown made of silk organza appliqued with Alencon lace delicately embroidered with seed pearls and crystals. The full skirt terminated in a chapel-length train.

Similar jewels fashioned the becoming crown caught with her tiered illusion veil. She carried her missal with a bouquet of gladiolus.

Miss Phyllis A. Corley of Roslindaie was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn A. Bliz of West Roxbury, Mrs. Frances R. Cosgrove of Norwood and Mrs. Ann E. Jannette of Jamaica Plain.

Teen Time Topics

By DOT DUNN

Dear Dot,
Can you tell me why so many adults push the panic button when we teen-agers make make-up?

N.M.

Dear N.M.,
I can't speak for anyone but myself. Let's discuss the use of lipstick. Most adults know that it's correct to find the right shade and apply it sparingly. Suddenly when their favorite teen-ager appears with a half a tube of the wrong shade on their pretty lips, they'd have to be sitting at the circus not to get a little tense. Mascara is only effective when subtly applied. But is any wonder that a father blows his top when he enters his peaceful home to find his daughter with what seems to be two black eyes? Most authorities on the subject agree that teen-agers need very little make-up.

Dear Dot,
My mother doesn't agree with me that it's quite proper for a 15-year-old girl to call up a boy. I've tried to explain that this rule has changed. How do you feel about it?

T.N.

Dear T.N.,
I believe that it has changed a little. The girl must have a pretty good reason for the call or even today she will still be considered chasing the boy. I imagine this is what your mother is trying to make clear. Other than extending invitations to a party or homework discussions, caution should be stressed not to overwork the calling.

Dear Dot,
Whenever a boy takes me out to dinner, I never seem to know whether he or I should be the one to decide upon the time to leave. Can you answer this for me?

A. P.

Dear A. P.,
There are many teen-agers who have asked this question. The girl is the one to make the first move. She puts her unfolded napkin at the left of her plate and starts to get up as she looks at her escort for approval. If her date suggests that she remain for a little longer, she should certainly do so.

Dear Dot,
My mother married again after my father's death. I just don't know how to properly introduce her to my friends. Please help me with this problem?

M. G.

Dear M. G.,
Yes I can readily see what your problem is. Instead of saying, "John, this is my mother," it would be better to say "John, this is my mother, Mrs. Jones." Otherwise your friends may become embarrassed if they find they have made a mistake.

Quonset Huts For Firemen?

Temporary housing for displaced apparatus so as to provide fire protection in the city's north side was urged in a resolution passed by the Board of Aldermen recently.

It was suggested that the administration take immediate steps to house West Newton and Newton Corner men and equipment perhaps under canvas or in Quonset-type structures pending completion of construction on replacements for the two fire stations.

The West Newton apparatus has been moved to Waban, and the aldermen men pointed out that the run from there to fires in the area that apparatus formerly covered would be too long for good protection.

The Newton Corner station as yet has not been abandoned, but is likely to move shortly.

During their stay, Mrs. Mendelson, an amateur sculptress who has turned to drawing, will seek the opinion of Boston experts as to whether her latest sketches warrant being exhibited here.

Mr. Mendelson, too, will combine business with pleasure during his visit, intending to talk to publishers in Boston and New York about a possible reprint of his illustrated book of collected epigrams, "Wise, Witty and Well Worded."

Scholar, teacher, farmer and editor, Mr. Mendelson describes himself alliteratively as "paper peddler, philosopher, punster, pedagogue of sorts and publicist."

He was the first mid-westerner to attend the first lectures at the newly-founded Hebrew University in Jerusalem in 1925, and the first midwesterner to teach English Literature in Tel Aviv, Jerusalem and Haifa.

Dry Spell Delays Tennis Season

The combination of continued dry weather and planned renovations has delayed opening of the city's clay tennis courts, Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney explains.

Rain is needed, he says, to help the calcium chloride bind the clay into a proper playing surface.

Tennis permit buttons are on sale at the Recreation Department in City Hall, and a leader will be on duty at the Newton High School courts on the weekend to sell permits and schedule court use. Burr and Brewer playground courts will also have a leader on weekends when they open for play.

Non-Profit NRA Shown As Aiding Newton Expenses

Newton has been helped to save thousands of dollars in taxes, in the conservation of valuable open spaces and in making the best use of its recreational facilities, by the National Recreation Association, wrote Howard L. Rich, chairman of the organization's Newton Committee in a recent letter to local citizens.

Serving with Mr. Rich on the committee are, Adelaide B. Ball, George L. White, Hirsch Sharf and Mrs. Worthing L. West.

The nonprofit NRA has been of enormous value to Newton's Recreation Department, through its consultation services, publications, training courses and studies, he continued, in making an appeal for continued and increased support of the National Recreation Association.

Mr. Rich pointed out that citizens of all ages are being helped to realize more meaningful rewards through the recreation guidance of the NRA and in the years ahead, the services of the organization, whose sole aim is the betterment of the uses of free time, would be needed more than ever before.

"Your tax deductible gift will help hundreds of youngsters as well as many lonely men and women lead happier, healthier, lives," concluded Mr. Rich. Contributions may be sent directly to the chairman, Howard L. Rich, 350 Park Square Bldg., Boston 16, Mass.

Connolly Ponders Fight For Mayor Against Gibbs

Herbert L. Connolly, Newton businessman and head of a well known Boston automobile agency, disclosed today that he is seriously considering the possibility of challenging Mayor Donald L. Gibbs in the coming municipal election.

Connolly told The Graphic that he will make a decision within a month on whether he will enter the mayoralty fight.

Up to now there has been no indication that Gibbs will be opposed as he seeks reelection to a third term as Newton's chief municipal executive.

Connolly lives at 80 Claremont street, Newton, is married and the father of three children.

He was an unsuccessful candidate last year for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor but polled more than 300,000 votes in the September primary.

Connolly said today that a number of persons have urged him to enter the race for Mayor and that he has had offers of very substantial support if he does so.

The automobile executive is understood to be weighing three major factors as he deliberates on the possibility of standing for election as Mayor.

One is that he would prefer to run for state-wide office but that there probably will be no opportunity for him to do so next year since all but one of the State Constitutional officers are Democrats who presumably will seek reelection in 1964. The only opening on the Democratic State ticket will be for Attorney General.

A second is that a Democratic candidate for Mayor would be under a decided handicap in the Republican city of Newton.

The third is that Mayor Gibbs, after four years in office, would be difficult to unseat. Gibbs was unopposed in 1961.

Principal Of School Marks Silver Jubilee

The Mason-Rice P.T.A. held its last meeting of the school year recently. After the school orchestra, under the direction of George Napoli, presented a brief concert, Henry Myerson, P.T.A. president, introduced Miss Ethel Smith, this year's winner of the Mason-Rice Scholarship. A brief business meeting followed, during which the new P.T.A. officers were introduced.

The high point of the evening came when Mr. Myerson announced that the executive board of the school's P.T.A. had voted to honor Miss Ruth Dority for her 25 years as principal of Mason-Rice by presenting her with a silver tea service, and by giving the school a handsome framed photograph of its principal.

Miss Dority was particularly pleased to find many former friends and associates present in her honor. Among those at the meeting were Dr. Charles Brown, Superintendent of the Newton Schools, Mrs. Stewart Holmes, former Mason-Rice P.T.A. president, Miss Ruth Burgess, former

Car Operators Should Watch For 2-Wheelers

Police and safety officials have issued urgent warnings to motorists to use extreme caution when youngsters on bikes are on the highways.

The officials also warn parents to impress safety rules upon their children now that the good weather once again opens the bicycle riding season.

An astounding increase in injuries and fatalities involving bike-riding kiddies, 25 percent last year, requires motorists to "watch the side of the road with as much care as the middle."

Crime Commission Expected To Explode More Bombshells

While a heavy cloak of secrecy surrounds the activities of the State Crime Commission, it is apparent that the bombshell it exploded, when three public officials were indicted on the basis of the evidence it assembled, was just the forerunner of more to come.

when it turns information it has gathered over to the Attorney General for presentation to a Grand Jury.

But this Crime Commission will be heard from only The commission members are forbidden by law from disclosing what they are probing or whom they are investigating. However, it is known that they are delving into more than one area of government to determine whether they can uncover any evidence or indication of wrongdoing.

Crime Commissions in the past operated largely under the spotlight of public attention, holding open meetings, at times creating newspaper headlines, causing flurries in the underworld, but in the end accomplishing nothing.

Ironically, the indictment of two officials of the State Housing Board and a member of the Governor's Council resulted from information the crime busters came upon while they were attempting to investigate other allegations contained in a report issued by State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley.

Conflict Law Co-author To Speak May 22

Prof. Paul M. Siskind, Newtonville, of Boston University's School of Law and co-author of the new "conflict of interest" law in Massachusetts, will speak before the annual meeting of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association Wednesday, May 22 at 7:45 p. m. in the Meadowbrook Junior High School.

He will speak "The New Conflict of Interest Law in Massachusetts." He will discuss how Newton and state officials are being affected by the new law which became effective on May 1.

Alan S. Barkin, 540 Parker St., Newton Centre, president of the Improvement Association, will preside and introduce the speaker.

A business meeting will precede the speaking part of the meeting and three by-law amendment changes will be voted upon at that time.

The Newton Recreation Commission is requesting a special appropriation of $6000 for the reclamation of Crystal Lake at next week's Newton Board of Aldermen's meeting. The request will be considered by the Finance Committee Thursday evening. This request has the approval of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

This appropriation would cover the cost of the services of a biologist who would conduct a complete Bio-engineering study of Crystal Lake to determine the presence and extent of aquatic weeds, bacterial indicators, persistent ground water pollutants, and fish population. It would coordinate the installation and operation of hydrologic equipment to prevent pollution of the swimming area during the swimming season; and to supervise the aquatic weed control program.

The Recreation Commission approved this request after hearing a report from Jason Cortell, biologist, at its April meeting. It noted that the swimming area has been closed down in past years by the Health Department because of pollution.

School Board Approves 60 New Local Teachers

Appointment of 60 new teachers for the Newton elementary and secondary schools, recommended by Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent, was approved by the School Committee without debate at its meeting Monday night.

Of the 60, the majority come from 18 states of the union other than Massachusetts.

Prior to the vote of approval discussion was limited to one question—why do so many come here from so far away? In his reply, Dr. Brown said that in his opinion westerners had a liking for the east.

Next to Massachusetts, New York State is supplying the greatest number—eight. Next come Connecticut with seven, New Jersey with six, Minnesota with four, Michigan with three, Ohio with two, and one each from Indiana, Honolulu, Nebraska, Missouri, Texas, Delaware, Florida and North Carolina.

Local Kindergarten Program Is Praised

Newton's early kindergarten admissions program, now in its second year, has worked satisfactorily. Dr. Edward Landy, assistant superintendent of schools, reported to the School Committee at its Monday night meeting.

Under the program, parents who believe a youngster, who has not reached the required age when the year's school term starts, is sufficiently advanced to enter kindergarten, may apply for his admission, and the application will be approved provided tests show him to be academically and socially able. Thus, some youngsters nearly a year under the entrance age can enter school.

This year, Dr. Landy reported, out of 215 applications, 45 were admitted. He added that 22 kindergarten teachers rated most of them with the top 25 percent, and found that only two were considered to be at the bottom level of the class.

Asked for an evaluation, 20 teachers said that of the 64 youngsters admitted last year, all were ready at the term's end for 1st grade work. Eight teachers expressed some doubt about 11 of them.

"In our opinion," Dr. Landy said, "the younger children did better than their elders in the class."

"I am proud of our Newton parents," he said. "We had to rule out a number of applications, but there were no complaints."

Noted Psychiatrist Is Named St. Paul's Center For Blind Head

Dr. Thomas F. Caulfield, a psychiatrist with wide experience with blind persons, will become the rehabilitation director and administrator of St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Newton on June 1, it was announced by the Rev. Thomas J. Carroll, director of Boston's Catholic Guild for All the Blind.

"We consider that Dr. Caulfield's appointment will open the gates to major contributions to the rehabilitation of blind persons," Father Carroll said.

"Dr. Caulfield probably has a wider clinical experience with blind persons than any psychiatrist in the United States today," the priest said. "Included in this experience is his work as Chairman of the Psychosocial Department of St. Paul's since 1954, including direction of more than three hundred blind persons rehabilitated there in that period."

St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center was established in 1954 as a unit of Boston's Catholic Guild for All the Blind for the purpose of rehabilitating those who have lost their sight as adults. Recognizing the severe shock of adult blindness, the Rehabilitation Center organized a professional staff, which recognized the need for strong psychological emphasis, to work with the blinded.

"In this our tenth year of operation," Father Carroll said, "we feel ready to take the next major step in the rehabilitation process — the establishment of a 'psychotherapeutic community.' We know of no one with the qualifications which Dr. Caulfield brings to this task."

Dr. Caulfield, a graduate of Holy Cross and of Harvard Medical School, practiced medicine in Woburn prior to World War II. Drawn to the field of psychiatry while a Captain in the Army Medical Corps, he entered his psychiatric training with the Veterans Administration in 1946. For the past fifteen years, he has been engaged in the private practice of psychiatry in Boston. On the staffs of St. Elizabeth's and Glenside Hospitals, he is an Assistant in Psychiatry at Tufts Medical School and an instructor of psychiatry at Boston College School of Social Work. He has been a member of the psychiatric staff of the Rosary Clinic, Child Guidance Center at Nazareth, Boston, and Chief Psychiatric Consultant at the Catholic Family Counseling Service of Boston.

In his new position, Dr. Caulfield will work closely with the thirty-five staff members and consultants at St. Paul's to deepen their insights into the psychology of disability. At the same time he will work with blind persons being rehabilitated to assist them to a quicker and more complete conquest of their problems.

Dr. Caulfield is well known in the field of blindness and rehabilitation at St. Paul's, but also is famed for his lectures nationally. He has participated in the Inter-American Rehabilitation Conference at San Juan, Puerto Rico, and was a delegate to the International Congress on Psychiatry at Milan, Italy, in 1961. His new position will increase his contribution to the field.

Dr. Ingall Passes Test
Dr. Manuel Ingall of 1180 Beacon St., Newton, passed a civil service examination, and his name has been added to an alphabetical list of those eligible to serve as a reserve school physician in the Newton Health Department.

JUDITH ROTHSTEIN

Girl Student To Be Soloist At Pops Night

Judith Ellen Rothstein, a student at Newton High School, will be the featured soloist at the annual Newton Night at the Boston Pops with Arthur Fiedler, Friday, May 31. She will be playing the First Movement of the Mozart Flute Concerto in G Major.

Judith Rothstein is the daughter of Jerome and Charlotte E. Rothstein. Her early childhood was spent in New Jersey in the towns of Belmar and Red Bank. Her father was employed by the Signal Corps in that area.

In Red Bank she studied clarinet and was a soloist at several band concerts. She moved to Newton in 1957, attended Weeks Junior High, where she played in the band, and then Newton High, continuing her study of piano and clarinet. Then she found that the flute was her natural instrument. Philip Kaplan of the Boston Symphony Orchestra has been her teacher of flute for three years.

At Newton High Judy studied under Henry Lasker, both theory composition and music appreciation. Under his instruction she composed a duet for flute and a composition for full orchestra, both of which have received public performance. She was elected to the National Honor Society in her Junior year. She has been in the High School orchestra as a flutist.

Her uncle, Robert Weinrebe, is a violinist in the New York Philharmonic. She is interested in the study of computer programming.

Tickets for this concert may be obtained by calling Susan Scrimshaw, BI 4-9715.

tribution to international understanding of the problems of blindness.

St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center is internationally known for its contributions to the rehabilitation of blind persons. In the nine years of its existence, its trainees have come from twenty-one states and two Canadian provinces, and it has drawn professional personnel from some 40 foreign countries to observe its program.

Doctor Terms Type III Polio Vaccine A Must

City Hall has had a flood of requests from citizens who want information on the Type III polio vaccine clinics scheduled for next week there and in the Oak Hill School and Warren Junior High.

They want to know whether they should take the Type III if they have not taken either Type I or Type II, or have failed to take both.

Here is the answer: Type III should be taken regardless of whether the other two were missed, because there are three distinct types of polio, and each type feeding is a preventative against one of them.

Dr. Edward J. Sawyer, Immunization Committee chairman, advises that in order to be adequately immunized, Type III should be taken at the clinics and, if the other types were missed, they should be had from a physician.

Schedule for the feedings is: Sunday, May 19, 2 to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, May 22, 7 to 9 p.m.; and Sunday, May 26, 2 to 5 p.m.

Local Welder Award Winner

David F. Cormier, 232 Watertown street, Newton, a welder at the Boston Naval Shipyard, was one of six top winners of Superior Accomplishment Awards, according to the announcement this week by Captain F. C. Jones, USN, Shipyard Commander.

The Newton man received the sum of $210 with his five top colleagues for their "highly successful accomplishment" in preventing fire or other casualty during the conversion of USS Albany to a guided-missile cruiser.

Investors Here Told Bonds Of Israel Mature

Investors in this area are advised by Lawrence G. Laskey of Newton that the first Israel Bonds sold in Greater Boston 12 years ago can be redeemed upon their maturity this year.

Bonds purchased in May, 1951, may be redeemed this month, he explains, and those purchased in June of that year may be redeemed next month.

The redemption procedure is a simple one, Mr. Laskey said. First, a Letter of Transmittal must be filled out. This is a form requesting redemption of the bond. It may be obtained at the Israel Bond Office, 141 Milk street, Boston, or will be sent to the bondholder upon request.

The Letter of Transmittal calls for issue date of the bond (when it was purchased), issue amount, maturity value and the bond number. Also, the name or names of the registered owner or owners, and the address where the redemption check should be sent.

The Letter of Transmittal and the Israel Bond are then mailed to the Chase Manhattan Bank, Corporate Agency Department, 80 Pine street, New York 15, N. Y. It is suggested that registered mail be used. The redemption check will be mailed by the bank to the registered owner or owners.

There will be no charge for this service by the Chase Manhattan Bank. Mr. Laskey pointed out that the bonds may be presented to a local bank for redemption, but that some local banks have a service charge for collection of the redemption value of a security.

In Boston, the City Bank and Trust Co., 175 Washington street, will redeem Israel Bonds with no charge, according to an announcement by its president, Rubin Epstein. Mr. Epstein said he would render this public service in the interest of assisting investors in obtaining their redemption checks.

No bragging. But the 1963 Mercury is a solid success in New England. Aside from looks (which folks around here are high on), we think one big reason is the exclusive power-operated rear window. It lets in fresh air without drafts. Blows out smoke and stale air. Keeps the other windows from steaming up. And because it slants in under the roof, it stays clearer in bad weather. Of course, when you add in Mercury's ride, luxury and performance, it sort of clinches things. Why not come in and clinch a fine deal for yourself?

Little League Lines

A high class pitching job turned in by Gary Lenox, who posted a one-hitter, and a two-run homer by Stu Silverman gave the Cubs a 6-2 win over the Phillies in last Monday night's Newton East Little League game at the Newton Centre playground.

The same evening, in a North game, the Dodgers beat the Cardinals 7-6, with Gary Gentile's double accounting for the winning run.

In the Monday South game, the Braves won over the Giants 3-0, Alex Leichook hurling a four-hit shutout.

The Braves had the edge over the Tigers in the Central game, whose score was 5-4, with Steve Salter of the Braves starting at bat with two singles and two runs batted in.

Joe Milewski struck out 13 in the West game, as his Red Sox team tied the Redlegs at three all.

Richardson Playground spectators last Thursday night saw the Newton South Tigers top the Yankees 7-4. Larry Maclean came up with a two-run homer, and John Michaels hit one for the losing nine.

Newton East Athletics beat the Phillies that night 10-9, John Neuman giving up only five hits.

Combined pitching and hitting gave the North Indians a 4-0 win over the Dodgers. John "Aucher" tossed a three-hit shutout and first-sacker Charles Gilley had a four-bagger and a double.

It was a 10-10 draw as the West Pirates took on the Orioles. The Pirates' Norm Westlund had two singles, a double and a home run.

It was Braves 14 Pirates 4 in a Central League contest, with Stuart Glassman's three-run homer a highlight.

Mayor Lauded For Speed On Horace Mann

The School Committee, on motion of Mrs. Norma W. Mintz, voted Monday night to relinquish its rights to the burned-out Horace Mann School so as to be relieved of liability should children be injured in entering the building.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs told the committee that Mrs. Mintz was unduly concerned as the building had been boarded up and the fire escapes by which she said the youngsters had entered the building, had been removed.

Nevertheless, the committee decided to play safe and relinquishment was voted.

That came under the head of "old business." Under "new business," Dr. Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools, introduced Architect William Hoskins Brown, who proceeded to explain his preliminary plans for the proposed new Horace Mann School, and exhibited a model of the building and its surroundings.

During the course of discussion, Chairman Haskell C. Freedman expressed the appreciation of the committee and of the parents of Horace Mann pupils for the dispatch with which Mayor Gibbs had provided for replacement of the school, which had burned less than two weeks ago. He described the mayor's work as "magnificent," and said that "if all goes well we will have a new Horace Mann ready by September, 1964."

Termining the school's specifications that had been handed him "a challenge," the architect explained that he had abandoned the idea for a one-story structure, and drawn plans for a building of two stories and "gone underground" for the gymnasium and auditorium. Thus, he said, it would be possible to do a proper landscaping job around the building as with two stories, only 80 percent of the available land would be used for the structure.

Asked by the chairman for comment, Dr. Brown said that "in general we like the preliminary plans."

The architect promised to keep the committee informed as the plans progressed toward permanency.

The league announces that those able to stay only for a part of the program will be welcome, and that no reservations will be necessary to hear the speakers. Mrs. Samuel Beaser, chairman of the day, will answer any questions if called at BI 4-4108.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 following a business session, and the afternoon program will begin at 1:30.

The change sought was from residential zone to Business AA. No one appeared in opposition at the public hearing. A few residents of the area said they preferred a motel to the gravel pit. The construction company was represented by Richard H. Lee, former Newton senator.

Herbert G. McKinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McKinney, 133 Brookline St., Newton Centre, has been named to the Dean's List at Springfield College.

COP Prevue Of '64 Here On May 21st

A "Prevue of '64" starring three notable personalities on the political scene will feature the annual meeting of the Newton Republican Club to be held Tuesday evening, May 21, at the Countryside School in Newton.

A large audience is expected to hear and meet the Republicans' new State Committee chairman, Frederick C. (Buck) Dumaine Jr., who recently took over the reins of GOP affairs in the Bay State.

Appearing with Dumaine will be Margaret M. Heckler, lone Republican member of the Governor's Executive Council; and State Representative Freyda P. Koplow.

The three will participate in a wide-open panel discussion moderated by Edward J. O'Donoghue, president of the club. The event is open to the public without charge.

Tarlow Named To State Job

Sherwood J. Tarlow of 432 Chestnut St., Waban, nominated for the position of federal-state coordinator by Gov. Peabody, received the unanimous consent of the Executive Council.

The job has a starting salary of $11,908 but, contrary to published reports, is not of a lifetime variety. Edward O'Brien of the State Department of Personnel is authority for the statement that an incoming administration could remove him.

Action Aplenty This Week In Schoolboy Ball

Followers of schoolboy baseball here had plenty to talk about as a result of this week's activity, what with a no-hitter pitched by George Berry of Our Lady's High, his second straight of the season. The game, which Our Lady's won 2 to 0, was played against Bishop Fenwick High at Peabody last Friday. The previous Wednesday, Our Lady's beat North Cambridge High 8-6, and went into a Catholic Suburban League tie with Sacred Heart for second place.

Sacred Heart, which lost a game enabling Our Lady's to equal its 5-3 record, won over St. Clement's High in Somerville last Monday by 6-4, in a game sparked by a Jeff Magee two-run homer.

Newton South had a good day last Monday, taking Rindge Tech by 7-6 on Lincoln Field, Waban, but Newton High that day was less fortunate, being bested by Cambridge Latin 7-3 in Cambridge. It was Newton's first loss after a streak of five wins.

In another Monday game, St. Sebastian's, with help from Connie Hurley, who accounted for four runs with a homer, triple and single, beat Milton Academy 11 to 1 at Milton.

The commission members, according to reliable information, have been studying Buckley's reports for possible leads. This provides a pretty fair inkling as to the fields they are likely to explore.

One difference between this Crime Commission and its predecessors is that the present group apparently is concentrating its attention on various branches of the State government.

Previous commissions devoted themselves principally to the machinations of organized crime in the State which is the cause of much of the corruption in government.

Whether the new Crime Commission intends to look into the operations of organized crime is uncertain, but it is assumed that it eventually will do so.

GOP Move In State For Barry Goldwater

A group of prominent Massachusetts Republicans headed by GOP State Committee Chairman Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., reportedly will undertake to lead a Bay State delegation to next year's Republican national convention which will be pledged to Senator Barry Goldwater for President.

It now appears that this was one of the objectives of some of the influential GOP figures who made a successful fight to install Dumaine in the Republican State Committee chairmanship instead of Assistant Attorney General Donald W. Whitehead who had been endorsed for the post by Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Attorney General Edward W. Brooke and ex-Governor John A. Volpe.

Former GOP State Chairman Elmer C. Nelson and former Governor's Councillor Winfield Shuster, two of Dumaine's top backers, are understood to be in the forefront of the move to line up the Massachusetts contingent for Goldwater.

This may foreshadow a statewide battle next year for election as delegates to the Republican national convention. While Dumaine as the GOP

State chairman would pick the members the "official" delegate slate, presumably after consultation with top Republican leaders, the "official" ticket can and probably will be opposed by other groups.

One flaw in the behind-the-scenes attempt to sew up the Massachusetts delegation for Goldwater is that persons in Washington close to the Arizona Senator indicate that he doesn't want the Presidential nomination next year.

They assert that Goldwater's senatorial term expires at the end of 1964 and that he is not disposed to give up a reasonably sure Senate seat to gamble that he can defeat President Kennedy.

The nomination of Goldwater as the Republican candidate to stand against Kennedy would be logical and intriguing action since it would give the people a choice of two different political philosophies. But it is not a likely event.

As a matter of fact, the GOP may find next year that it has no outstanding contender to match against JFK who right now would be an overwhelming favorite to defeat any challenger.

Goldwater would probably give Kennedy about as hard a fight as any Republican nominee, but it would be stretching imagination to think the colorful Senator would have any real chance of winning if the political climate were the same at the time of the 1964 election as it is today.

The other GOP prospects are either over the hill or haven't climbed far enough up the hill to be considered Presidential timber. Proof of that is the move to boom Michigan's Governor Romney who is now serving his fifth month in public office.

It is academic to discuss whether New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller killed his Presidential possibilities by remarrying after his divorce.

The cold fact is that enough Republican politicians believe he did so that he would have no chance of getting the nomination. A lot of GOP politicians think the women voters would give Rocky the deep-six, and they aren't disposed to nominate him so they can find out if they're right.

Next year is far from a promising one for the Republican party as far as achieving the presidency is concerned.

Meanwhile, everything is not serene within the GOP here in Massachusetts even though Governor Peabody has got himself into so much political hot water that a lot of Republicans would welcome the opportunity to run against him 18 months from now.

About the only thing Dumaine has done since he was elected to the State Committee chairmanship over the opposition of top Republican leaders has been to fire the committee's publicity man and speech-writer.

Dumaine wasn't exactly given the red carpet treatment when he visited Attorney General Edward W. Brooke's office recently.

Whether Dumaine can do a rebuilding and revitalizing job for the GOP is something only time will determine. He hasn't been a ball of political fire so far.

The Other JFK Plans Comeback

Former State Treasurer John F. Kennedy of Canton—the man with the magic name—is planning a political comeback. But he's not sure whether he'll attempt it next year or in 1966.

The prospects for "the other JFK" will be rather bleak next year since it's highly doubtful he could defeat any of the present State Constitutional officers in a Democratic primary. It may be a different story, however, in 1966.

Under the Massachusetts Constitution, State Treasurer John T. Driscoll can serve only three consecutive terms. This means he'll be obliged to step out and aim for some other office in 1966.

That would leave an opening for Kennedy to move in to succeed Driscoll. In a free-for-all fight he would be a hard man to defeat in either a primary or an election.

The Canton Kennedy still disputes those political observers who believe he was originally elected Treasurer in 1954 because of his name. He says if there was so much magic in his name he would not have been defeated for the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1960.

Maybe he has a point. But it's also possible that the same people who confused him with John Fitzgerald Kennedy in 1954 realized in 1960 that the latter Kennedy wasn't running for both President and Governor.

Legislative Pay Hike Slated For Approval

Spot checks on Beacon Hill indicate that the members of the Legislature will vote themselves the $2600-a-year pay raise recommended for them by Governor Peabody.

At one period it was reported that the law-makers might trim down Peabody's proposal and give themselves a little less than $2600 since the voters cut their pay $1500 last November.

Now, however, it appears practically certain that the wage hike will be approved exactly as submitted by Peabody.

In a somewhat awkward dilemma are those freshman legislators who campaigned last fall on the issue of the $1500 raise passed late in 1960.

Democrats Launch Major May Events

Newton Democrats are climbing last fall's successful election work with two major events this month—a public discussion of Governor Endicott Peabody's legislative program, tonight, Thursday, May 16, and a Victory Dinner, on Sunday, May 26, honoring Governor Peabody in person.

The May 16 meeting, entitled "The Peabody Program at the Grassroots," represents a move by Democrats to analyze local applications of the Governor's proposals on taxes, education and governmental reforms.

Featured speakers are Robert Capeless, advisor to the Governor on Fiscal Affairs; Maurice Goldings, counsel to the Massachusetts Special Commission on Revision of the Constitution, and Prof. Kermit Morrissey of Brandeis University, chairman of the Board of Regional Community Colleges. Lawrence E. Cooke, chairman of the Newton Democratic City Committee, will preside.

The role of the citizen in government and strengthening of party organization to enhance party legislative prospects will also be scrutinized at the May 16 meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Claffin School, 465 Lowell avenue, Newton. The meeting is open to the public.

The discussion meeting dovetails with broad statewide Democratic plans, under the direction of State Democratic Chairman Gerard F. Doherty, to encourage informed, grass roots Democratic strength.

Newton Democrats mounted vigorous campaigns last fall resulting in the election, for the first time in Newton's history, of two Democratic candidates for the State House of Representatives, Irving Fishman of Waban and Joseph Bradley of Newton. Senator Michael Galvin of Newton was also successful in his first bid of public office and is the first Democratic state senator to represent any part of the City of Newton.

The Victory Dinner at Val's Restaurant, May 26, is a fund-raising event designed to pay tribute to these Democratic successes in Newton, as well as Endicott Peabody's election as Governor. Mr. Peabody will be the featured speaker.

Dr. Arnold M. Soloway of Waban is chairman of arrangements for the Peabody Program meeting on May 16. Herbert Regal of Newton heads the committee on arrangements for the Victory Dinner. Other Newton Democrats assisting on arrangements include Reps. Bradley and Fishman, Herbert Connelly of Newton Corner, Sidney Small of Newton Centre, Mrs. Harold Brenner of Waban, Mrs. Betty Taymor of West Newton, Joseph MacDonald of Newton Corner, Mrs. Vera Loftus of West Newton, Guido Cetrone of Newtonville and Dorothy Sullivan of Newton Highlands.

Doctors Named By Heart Ass'n

Two Newton physicians were elected as officers of the Massachusetts Heart Fund's Greater Boston Chapter at its annual meeting yesterday (Wednesday).

Dr. George S. Kurland, 150 Dedham St., Newton Centre, was installed as president of the chapter. Formerly the chapter's secretary, he is assistant professor of medicine and instructor in medical sciences at Harvard Medical School and an associate visiting physician of the cardiology clinic and associate in medical research at Beth Israel Hospital.

Dr. Harry T. Phillips of 147 Lake Ave., Newton Centre, was elected a director for three years.

Lecturer At Horace Mann Series

Dr. Brown Final Lecture Speaker

Dr. Charles E. Brown, Superintendent of the Newton Public School system, will be the third and final speaker in the Horace Mann Lecture Series Wednesday, May 22, at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton.

Designed to bring important issues in education before the public, the lectures have thus far featured Hugh Nixon, executive secretary, Mass. Teachers Association, and Dr. Lester S. Vander Werf, dean, College of Education, Northeastern University.

The series has been named to honor Horace Mann, the "father of American public education," who was a Newton resident and a founding member of the First Unitarian Church in West Newton. He was also the first Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts.

Arthur Laughland, will preside and introduce the speaker. The public is invited to the meeting, which will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Mrs. Henry Whitmore, a member of the Newton School Committee, brought greetings at the first lecture. The Rev. Dr. Leslie T. Pennington is minister of the church.

School Comm. Concurs with Dr. Brown's Ideas

On recommendation of Dr. Charles E. Brown, school superintendent, it was voted by the School Committee Monday night to send a shipment of surplus text books to a school that had been established in Morocco by volunteers. A request had been made by Ray F. Lund, principal of the Franklin School, who visited Morocco recently and noted the school's urgent need for books.

Also on the superintendent's recommendation, the committee approved payment of $300 each for the services of two participants in the Harvard undergraduate program, under which Harvard students had "been of tremendous help to our teachers at the high school level."

Dr. Brown explained that the students had served in the past with no payment of any kind, but now officials at the university had noted a tendency on the students' part to hesitate about working without pay. He said that they were good teaching material and should be encouraged toward consideration of a teaching career.

The committee gave approval to still another of Dr. Brown's recommendations, this one in response to a request by the vocational division of the State Department of Education that Newton Technical High School operate a training course in Electronics under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Dr. Brown explained that the program was subsidized by the federal government with a direct grant, and constituted a 50-week course for adults to begin early this summer. The necessary equipment, he said, would be provided at federal expense.

Barry In NU Drive

Robert F. Barry of 26 Hope St., Auburndale, is among Northeastern University alumni leaders chosen to assist in the $40,000,000 Diamond Anniversary N. U. development program. He will be a team captain in the Newton area.

Police Chiefs Get PR Advice

Gerald A. Rogovin of 51 Shorncliffe Rd., Newton, public relations counsel with offices here, discussed the public relations needs of law enforcement agencies today (Thursday) before 45 police chiefs attending a special course conducted by the FBI and the New England Association of Chiefs of Police, Inc.

Earlier in the schedule Philip Purcell, Newton chief, spoke to the group.

The course, held in Boston's John Hancock Building, is limited to chiefs in Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

Dr. Franz J. Ingelfinger, professor of Medicine at Boston University School of Medicine and chief of the Gastrointestinal section of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, will discuss "The Diagnosis of Malabsorption" in a lecture that closes out a decade of Fried Lectures at Newton-Wellesley Hospital Monday, May 20, at 8:30 p.m.

The lectures for members of the Greater Boston medical community were established in 1953 and have featured authorities who described current thinking about the diagnosis and treatment of diseases.

Unions, Politics Topics Of Panel

"Unions, Politics and Legislation" will be the topic of a panel discussion during the meeting of the Suburban Personnel-Industrial Relations Society that includes a dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the Pillar House Thursday, May 23.

Donald E. Dionne of the Newton Chamber of Commerce has urged all members to attend what promises to be "one of the most informative and interesting programs of the year."

Speakers will be Sen. William E. Hayes of Waltham, Rep. John F. X. Davoren, House majority leader, William Malloy, Boston Chamber of Commerce legislative counsel, and Samuel Angoff, partner in the firm of Grant, Angoff, Goldman and Manning, attorneys.

There will be a dutch treat social hour at 6 p.m.

Bowers Street To Be Closed Off

Bowers street from Walnut street to Harvard street, Newtonville, is to be closed to traffic for six weeks, Willard S. Pratt advised residents, explaining that construction of a retaining wall to support the street and the Methodist Church necessitates barring vehicles. It will be open to pedestrians, however.

Meeting Presents Rosy Bank Picture

The annual meeting of the Newton Bankers Association was held recently at Brae Burn Country Club with a capacity audience. The officers for the coming year were elected at this meeting: Albert W. Tocci, vice-president of the Newton National Bank, president; Frederick C. Ober, president, Newton Savings Bank, vice-president; Charles E. Dockser, president, Garden City Trust Company, treasurer; and Francis C. Chase, treasurer, West Newton Co-operative Bank, re-elected as secretary.

The meeting was conducted by President Robert P. Lurvey, treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank. President Lurvey spoke briefly about the financial position of the nine Newton Banks and stated that their gross assets are now $307,459,000, or an increase of 10 1/2% this past year.

The deposits now total $269,166,000, representing an increase of 11% over last year's figures. Real Estate Loans have increased during the year by $21,100,000 to a total of $154,966,000 or a 16% gain of last year.

The Newton Bankers Association is composed of the officers, directors, trustees, and incorporators of the nine Newton banks. President Lurvey introduced from the floor Senator Leslie B. Cutler, and the four representatives that had planned to attend; namely, Joseph G. Bradley, Irving Fishman, Lorenz F. Muther, and John W. Whittenmore, at the last moment were unable to make it as they were still in session at the State House.

Representatives of the bank commissioners office of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the head table consisted of William P. Morrissey, director of Savings Bank Examinations; David J. Coleman, director of Co-operative Bank Examinations; and Louis Orfanello, Director of Trust Company Examinations.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs spoke briefly regarding the financial affairs of the city of Newton. Mayor Gibbs informed the audience how the debt of the city of Newton had been reduced by approximately four million dollars during the time he has been in office.

He cautioned the members present that the city of Newton has some large capital expenditures facing them the majority of which is occasioned by the need of new schools or additions and renovations to existing schools.

He also stated that he was pleased that the tax rate could be reduced this year, however, with these large expenditures facing the city of Newton there is no assurance that the tax rate can be kept at a minimum.

The Newton Bankers Association had as the main speaker Christopher Legge, whose talk was entitled "Berlin — The Divided City." His talk included a colored slide presentation. Mr. Legge was born in England, and educated in England as well as the United States holding Masters' degrees from both Oxford University and Columbia University.

He was a former director of the United States Information Center in Berlin for a period of six years after World War II.

Trio Nabbed On Serious Charges

Alertness of Patrolmen Edward F. Ceurevels and William M. Fitzpatrick early Tuesday was responsible for the arrest of three Bostonians on serious charges.

The officers spotted a car going through a flashing red light in Newtonville Sq. They gave chase and found that the car contained materials that could have been used for the purpose of burglary.

In District Court Judge Gardner W. Russell sentenced one of the trio to 10 days on a charge of operating after his license was suspended, and fined him $10 for passing a red light. He appealed and was held in $1,000.

One of his companions was charged with a break and larceny in Boston, and the other was turned over to Boston police on a warrant charging possession of harmful drugs.

Steve Gordon Of B. U. Aspires To Big League Ball

Boston University has a second baseman whose sights are set on a big league career, and who has given indication that he is willing to pay the price. He is Steve Gordon of Newtonville, a product of Newton High.

Coach Bob Crocker is high on the Terriers' co-captain, and describes him as "quite a boy."

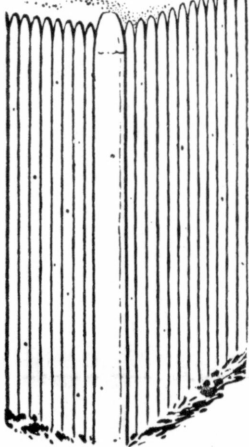

"After finishing with a respectable .346 batting average last season, Steve came to me for the fall drills, told me he was interested in a pro career, and asked what I thought of his chances," Crocker said.

"I told him his hitting was fine, but he was too heavy for his 5 ft. 9 frame. He proceeded to take off 20 pounds of slowness, and is ready for what he hopes will be his best college season. He knows what he wants and what it takes to get it."

Gordon won letters at Newton High in baseball and football, and was captain of the latter team. He will be a June graduate from B. U.'s School of Education.

Passes Engineer Test

Francis B. Johnson, 36 Adams St., Newtonville, has achieved a place on list of those eligible for appointment as assistant civil engineer in the Newton Public Buildings Department, as a result of his having been successful in a civil service examination.

Governor To Address Democrats

100,000 To See Huge Memorial Day Parade

Memorial Day, held sacred to the memory of departed veterans who served their country in wartime, will be fittingly observed here by a parade of massive proportions expected to attract some 100,000 spectators, next Thursday, May 30th.

With Sen. Leverett Saltonstall as chief of staff, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs as chief marshal and Francis L. Howley, Newton Fire Department official and a past commander of Newton Post 48, American Legion, as adjutant general, the marchers will get underway at 10:30 a.m. sharp.

They will first have assembled on the First National Stores parking lot at Washington and Crafts streets, Newtonville, at 9:45 a.m.

Following will be the line of march: West on Washington street to Walnut street, south on Walnut street to Commonwealth avenue and the War Memorial Flag Staff, and from there continuing along Walnut street to Newton Cemetery.

There will be a pause at the War Memorial for the placing of wreaths and prayer by the Rev. Robert W. Colledge of the Church of the Messiah. At the cemetery there will be programs at both the GAR monument and the veterans' lot.

Following the ceremonies there, the column will proceed out the main gate and go north on Walnut street and west on Commonwealth avenue to City Hall. There, the parade will pass in review, and the United States Marine Corps Band will perform for the chief of staff, the chief marshal and the adjutant general and their staffs.

The parade will then resume the march, and will disband on reaching Homer street near Commonwealth avenue.

The adjutants, under Francis L. Howley, will be as follows: Jayne C. Driscoll, Donald R. Ferreri, Mario DiCarlo, Norman J. Mitchell, J. Edward Theriault, Elmer King, Monte G. Basbas, Ulderico M. Schiavone and Carleton P. Merrill.

Following will be the aides for the program at the GAR monument: Lawrence Civetti, Harold Bailey, George Quirk and Helen G. Keefe. The introduction will be given by Jayne C. Driscoll. The Rev. Martin U. McCabe will give the invocation. Robert Leone will recite Lincoln's Gettys-

REV. J. A. SAMUELSON

ELSBETH MELVILLE

B.U. Promotion For Newtonites

Two well known Newton residents, Elsbeth Melville and the Rev. J. Arthur Samuelson, have been advanced as faculty members as the result of a major reorganization in the student personnel services at Boston University.

The move, which will include the promotion of several top administrators including the Newtonites, will find Dean of Women Elsbeth Melville, of Newtonville, assuming the added responsibilities of the new position of Dean of Students. She also will continue her present duties.

The Rev. J. Arthur Samuelson, former pastor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, and a resident of the Highlands, the present Assistant Dean of Men, will become Dean of Men.

President Harold C. Case, of the University, announced the reorganization move which took effect immediately.

Dean Melville, the wife of retired Boston University Dean Atlee L. Percy, is a graduate of the University and of New York University. She taught at Westbrook Junior College in Maine before coming to B.U. in 1945. She is a former national head of the Camp Fire Girls of America.

Rev. Samuelson is a graduate of Baker, of Boston and Harvard Universities. He was appointed as assistant dean of men at Boston University in June of 1962.

Prior to coming to Newton, he spent seven years as minister of the Parish Church in Brunswick, Me., the "College Church" of Bowdoin College.

He was the Protestant chaplain of the Norfolk Prison Colony from 1948 to 1951 while undertaking graduate studies in the field of social ethics at Harvard University.

Annual Meeting Of Red Cross To Be Held June 4

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced that the regular annual meeting will be held Tuesday evening, June 4, at 6:30 p.m. at the Waban Neighborhood Club, 1601 Beacon street.

As is the usual custom this meeting will be open to all residents of Newton and those who have contributed

$20 - Million Toll Road Project Rides On Air Rights Bill Vote

Passage of the so-called air rights bill, which would allow the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to execute leases of up to 99 years, is regarded as the next step toward the realization of a $20 million development over the toll road in the Newton Corner area.

The tax yield to the city on property assessed for $20 million would be about $1.3 million.

Leaders on Beacon Hill declare that the enactment of the air rights measure is virtually a certainty even though the bill does not give Boston the same protection as Newton over developments built above the toll road.

A similar bill was approved by the Legislature last year but was vetoed by ex-Governor Volpe near the close of the legislative session because the leases would extend far beyond the life of the Turnpike Authority.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared today that there is nothing wrong in the air rights measure as far as Newton is concerned and that it would not lessen the city's building, zoning or health controls over any new structures.

Newton GOP Club Names Officer List

A panel of officers and executive committee members for the Newton Republican Club were presented by Edward C. Uehlein, chairman of the nominating committee, at the meeting held Tuesday night at the Countryside School. Following are the nominees:

President: Waldo F. Forbes, former treasurer of the club; administrative vice-president: David A. Lurensky; first vice-president: William A. Lincoln; second vice-president: Mrs. Dennis E. Myers; assistant vice-president (for membership): James G. Chandler; recording secretary, Mrs. Rene J. Marcou; corresponding secretary: Mrs. George C. Janes; treasurer: Alan W. Licarie.

Named Pastor In Islington

Rev. Paul H. Doherty, a native of West Newton, has been appointed by Cardinal Cushing as the pastor of St. Denis Church in Islington. Fr. Doherty has been pastor of St. Irene's at Carlisle and succeeds Rev. Elias A. Mealey who died May 1 at St. Denis rectory.

Hospital Careers Studied

The contemplated development along a 3,000-foot strip of the toll road in Newton Corner would consist of a motel, a super-market, a department store, 11 small stores, a theatre and four apartment buildings.

The business establishments would be built on the Weston side of the Newton Corner bridge. The complex of 17-story apartment buildings would be on the other side of the bridge.

The motel, as visualized would be a six-story structure and would be located near Church and Richardson streets. It would contain 150 units.

Ample parking facilities would be provided at the motel, the business establishments and the four apartment buildings.

Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan first approached Mayor Gibbs on Wednesday of last week to sound him out on the suggested development.

Gibbs immediately conferred with the city's planning consultants and the feasibility consultants on urban renewal. The consultants all agreed that the plan outlined by Callahan appeared to have a great deal of merit and deserved careful study.

On Thursday night Gibbs appeared before the Board of Aldermen and discussed in detail the plan proposed by Callahan.

Gibbs asked the Aldermen whether they desired him to pursue the matter further with Callahan and peruse in depth the prospect of building the $20 million development.

The city fathers unanimously indicated their tentative approval of the idea and urged the Mayor to go into it thoroughly with Callahan. (At the close of Monday night's Aldermanic session, President Wendell R. Bauckman urged the Aldermen to study the air

Merrill To Resign GOP Local Post

Carleton P. Merrill, who has served as vice chairman and chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee since 1955 has tendered his resignation as head of the local GOP, to take effect today, May 23. His successor will be named at the meeting tonight.

During Mr. Merrill's eight years as executive head of the Republican group he has revitalized the organization by increasing the active membership nearly 100 percent by establishing an open door policy, through organizing local committee financing and formulating plans for revision of the GOP Committee By-Laws that have been in existence and operation since 1938.

Although resigning as chairman, Mr. Merrill will continue to take an active part in the Republican City work as a member of the executive committee, particularly in the Newton GOP reorganization program now under way in the Newton wards and precincts.

In making his resignation announcement Mr. Merrill stated that although he had planned to relinquish the GOP local chairmanship several months ago, he had delayed such action until

The formation in Newton of a new non-profit group concerned with the broad aspects of community mental health was reported favorably by the Mental Health Study Committee of the Newton Community Council recently after 18 months of study.

Recommendations for the formation of the group, as submitted by the study committee were accepted by the Governing Board of the organization.

The functions of this new organization will be: (a) to promote better community understanding of mental health and illness, (b) to develop an information and referral service for individuals who need assistance, (c) to encourage better coordination of existing services, (d) to study the need for additional services for the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of mental illness, and (e) to stimulate additional services, if needed.

In the course of the many meetings of the study committee, representatives from the various agencies and departments serving Newton were interviewed. In addition, experts from other communities which have developed mental health programs were consulted. It was on the basis of all this information that the ad-hoc study committee made its proposal for the establishment of a permanent group to concern itself in more detail

Homecoming Event To Attract 400 Here

Nearly 200 young ladies, students from Newton high schools and neighboring communities, converged on Newton-Wellesley Hospital last week to explore careers in nursing and health care. It preceded the annual Homecoming observance on Monday.

Built around the theme of the hospital as a career center, the programs permitted the girls to meet health care professionals.

A series of 12 tours introduced the interested girls to various hospital jobs, and the settings in which the jobs are performed.

Hot Democratic Battle Seen To Control Party Machinery

A battle for control of the Democratic party machinery in Massachusetts is gradually shaping up. Opposing factions are the old-line party regulars and COD, the relatively new splinter group.

Leaders of COD (which stands for Commonwealth Organization of Democrats) make no secret of the fact that they hope to assume the direction of the Democratic party in the State next year.

It is extremely doubtful that they will succeed in doing so unless the party regulars disregard the challenge and fail to meet it. Even now COD appears to wield more influence in the Peabody administration than its numerical strength warrants.

A mistake the members of COD seem to be making is their determination to run the show rather than to become a potent force within the Democratic party.

204-Unit Motel Okay In Lower Falls Area

The 19 members on hand for the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen in City Hall Monday night voted unanimously in favor of petitions of the Chatham Construction Company for a zoning change and use of land for construction of a 204-unit motel complex on Grove St., Newton Lower Falls, off Route 128.

The site is the old Riverside Sand and Gravel Company sandpit. Residents of the area expressed no opposition to the proposal at a recent public hearing held by the Committee on Claims and Rules and the Planning Board. A motel was preferable to a sandpit, they told the committee.

The proposed complex includes a multiple dwelling unit, with dining and related facilities, function rooms and ample facilities for parking cars of guests and employees.

Alderman William Carmen, speaking in the petition's favor, reminded the Board that this would be the first opportunity to put into effect the recently adopted code of parking regulations for new structures erected in the city. He also hailed the proposed function rooms, saying that good meeting places for large gatherings are a noticeable lack here.

Teaching Machine Exhibit In Newton Opens On May 27

A national demonstration-exhibit of Programmed Instruction and Teaching Machines, prepared by the Center for Programmed Instruction, a non-profit research organization in New York, under the auspices of the Educational Media Branch of the U. S. Office of Education, will make its only Newton appearance at Newton South High School the week of May 27.

The exhibit, developed by Dr. A. Harvey Block of CPI, encompasses 1,000 square feet of space and is unique in that it is an actual program, giving the viewer the opportunity of learning about programmed instruction by walking through a program written expressly for this exhibit.

In addition to the walk-through program, other sections include examples of teaching machines and color slides of all such devices now on the market; an actual library of all academic programs available for the 1962-63 school year; and an animated case history of how a school system incorporated programmed instruction into its on-going curriculum. Included are teachers' recorded comments and a film showing students at work with a program.

After opening in Washington at the U. S. Office of Education on October 22, the exhibit embarked on a nationwide tour which will cover some 32 cities. The project's primary purpose is to provide classroom teachers and school administrators with an understanding of programmed instruction and teaching machines.

with the development of a broad community mental health program.

Since there are other groups in Newton already interested in mental health, it was thought necessary to coordinate all these efforts. Mrs. Irene K. Thresher, president of the Newton Community Council, accepted the suggestion of an amendment to the report to set up a joint committee with the Action for Mental Health in Children group to work out mental health priorities in Newton, as suggested by Dr. Hutcheson of the State Department of Mental Health.

Members of the Mental Health Study Committee chaired by Adelaide B. Ball include: Chester E. Borden, Rev. William W. Clark, Champe A. Fisher, Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf, Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, Victor M. Kumin, Dr. Harry T. Phillips, Mrs. Isidor Slotnik, Rev. Helen Terkelsen, Dr. Donald E. Bowen, and Constance S. Garbutt.

"MEMOS" FROM YOUR Stylist

MR. JOHN OF CONTINENTAL Here are a few facts concerning scratchy, non-comely Erythema solare — better known as sunburn. A leading dermatologist had this to say:

"Sun acts the skin. Too much of it over long periods destroys the elastic fibers, or connective tissues, and they become degenerated.

"These fibers are like rubber bands and hold the skin taut. If you overdo it, even with a tan, the rays get down into the connective tissues."

Forgetting skin and sun for the moment, let's speak of your hair. Is it a problem — a lank, limp, spiritless problem? Actually, you don't have a great problem at all. There are always the excellent facilities and stylists of CONTINENTAL COIFFEURS to serve you — 2 locations for your convenience — 74 Langley Rd., Newton Centre, Phone WO 9-8817, and at 1231 Washington St., West Newton, Phone LA 7-9829.

rights bill. "We are going to hear more about it," Bauckman added.)

Gibbs next contacted Callahan and said he would like to see the bill of the re-creation of the Aldermen.

Callahan expressed gratification at the attitude of the Aldermen and said he would confer again with Gibbs as soon as the air rights bill is enacted into law.

It was indicated that prospective developers in the development over the toll road are not willing to put their money into the proposition unless leases of up to 99 years can be executed.

Under the existing law, less leases of up to 99 years or the authority can be executed only for the 40-year period the Turnpike Authority is scheduled to be in existence. After that time the toll road becomes the property of the State.

So far there has been no opposition in Newton to the $20 million development pictured by Callahan, and it is not anticipated there will be any.

Newton has lost $4.5 million worth of property which has been or is being demolished to make way for the extension of the toll road.

tured by Callahan would result in the construction of almost five times as much property as has been lost.

A new Star Market built over the toll road in Newtonville is nearing completion. Its cost was estimated at $270,000 when the building permit was issued.

Mayor Gibbs is now waiting for the adoption of the air rights bill and for the next move by Callahan after the measure becomes law.

"We don't want to pass up any opportunity which looks good for the city," he said in discussing the proposed development. "This might be the shot in the arm which Newton Corner needs."

The Many Facets Of Highway Safety

That sweeping changes in the Commonwealth's highway safety program is in the offing, backed by the double-barreled thrust of Governor Endicott Peabody and his new registrar of motor vehicles, James R. Lawton, is timely, needed and long overdue, is irrefutable.

Death and injury on Bay State roads is a mounting menace with the awesome toll increasing rather than decreasing, despite many well-intentioned efforts to control it.

We know that a comprehensive program to help solve the problem is in order; we are certain that the innumerable facets of the menace will be considered, studied and attempts made to eliminate them.

It seems logical that the new drive will take a closer look at the fatality figures released by insurance companies, in relation to age groups. Health examinations for all drivers is imminent, so why not thorough examinations of all automobiles on the highways. A sticker can cover a multitude of omissions.

If the age of drivers is to be scrutinized to qualify their ability to handle a car, why not a check on the age of the automobiles themselves? Many ancient heaps can be discerned daily roaring along the highways, some in apparently imminent danger of disintegrating.

A more than casual glance at the condition of many of the highways in this Commonwealth might be considered. Sloppy patch jobs, or no patch jobs, can contribute to a car zooming out of control.

Testing the mature judgement of drivers should be a vital item in any safety program. The mental attitude has considerable bearing on the safe operation of any motor vehicle. Faulty mental equipment on the part of drivers is revealed wholesale on our well-patronized highways on any week-end now that good driving conditions prevail, weatherwise.

Seat belts are fine and may prevent some types of bodily injury, but they will not cut down the accident rate. In fact, to a certain type of heedless driver they may constitute a license to hit the throttle in the mistaken conception that the belts provide immunity to injury.

Super-abundance of needless power under the hood has tolled the death knell for many motorists. Power, and more power, is advertised in the sale of cars and gasoline. No doubt, the new safety program will consider this aspect of highway fatality and mortality. Most of us can't handle all this super-power; on second thought, is it really needed in consideration of current speed limits on our roads and highways.

Maybe the entire concept of automobile driving should be changed; from the old-fashioned idea that it is a gay, lots of fun, family pastime, to that of a deadly serious test of survival, will help.

A comprehensive highway safety program is needed, no doubt. But, its success must require the exploration of many, many related items. It must touch all the bases and must move forward despite pressures from certain areas.

Our highway fatality record is a deadly ingrown disease which will not be cured by the application of a little external salve. The popular remedies seem inadequate in view of the record.

We are all-out for highway safety, and so are you. We subscribe to any realistic program that will help achieve it because it affects our lives and those of our families and loved ones. Let's make it realistic and let any tender toes that are trampled on, wince where they may.

Politics

Many respected Democratic leaders are understandably resentful of the attempt by COD to move in and take over. They would welcome the assistance and cooperation of COD. But they don't propose to be shouldered into the background by COD which came into existence as a reform organization less than three years ago.

Sometimes the wrong connotation is placed upon the expression, "party regulars or professional politicians." The fact is that the Democratic party has been built up to its present point by the party regulars and professional politicians.

If this writer were to select one person, aside from the Kennedy brothers, who has been most responsible for changing Massachusetts from a Republican to a Democratic State, the man picked would be John E. Powers, who is both president of the Senate and Democratic national committeeman.

Men such as the late Maurice J. Tobin and Paul A. Dever left their imprint upon the State. But Powers has worked continuously for more than a quarter of a century to sell the Democratic philosophy to the people of Massachusetts.

When Powers first was elected to the House of Representatives, the Legislature was under Republican control, and it was widely assumed that it would remain that way.

More than any other individual he was responsible for shifting the State Senate from the Republican to the Democratic column.

Now the State Legislature is so solidly under Democratic domination that there is serious doubt the Republicans ever can regain control of it.

It's only natural that Powers or anyone else in his position, who had fought the hard fight when the going was rough, would not relish the idea of a new splinter group attempting to move in and run things.

Powers, of course, is secure in his role as Democratic chieftain. Nobody is likely to elbow him out of the way. His differences with COD result largely from some of the ideas that the organization advances. But he is a symbol of the Democratic party regulars.

Feeling against COD is probably strongest in the Governor's Council which the reform group advocates be abolished. Some Councilors have caused eyebrow-lifting by quizzing persons nominated for positions by Governor Peabody or whether they are affiliated with COD and what their views are toward that organization.

However, Representative Paul C. Menton, a member of COD, was able to gain an even split among the eight Democrats on the Council when Governor Peabody nominated him to be Registrar of Motor Vehicles. His appointment was blocked when the ninth member, a Republican, voted against him on the ground that he was part of a job shuffle Peabody was attempting.

Hospital

Students participating were from the following schools: Newton High and Newton South High, Wellesley High, Rivers Country Day School in Weston, Our Lady Help of Christians High School, Newtonville, St. Bernard's High School in West Newton, and Sacred Heart High School in Newton Centre.

Continuing the busy agenda at the hospital, nearly 400 graduates and former faculty members are expected on Monday, May 27, for the 75th observance of Homecoming of the hospital's School of Nursing.

The hospital admitted its first nursing student in 1888. Since that time, more than 1,800 women have graduated. Present enrollment of the school is 152 girls.

Memories will be abundant for the group that will meet at 1 p.m. in Allen-Riddle Hall, the hospital's nursing residence. Student nurses in old-time and present-day uniforms familiar to the guests will serve as hostesses at a welcoming tea.

Various exhibits will illustrate the extensive changes in nursing education at the hospital during three-quarters of a century. The single textbook of the 1905 student will be contrasted with the dozen or more books used by the modern student. Pictures of each graduating class, where available also will be displayed.

Miss Fuller noted that three tours have been arranged to show graduates how the hospital has expanded over the years. The itinerary includes a stop at the frame cottages that comprised the hospital in 1886. The buildings will be demolished shortly to make way for a new physicians building, furnishing offices on hospital grounds for about 50 doctors. Arrangements for the day have been handled by the Nursing Services Department and the Education Unit at the hospital.

During the evening, the Nurses' Alumnae Association

tion will hold a banquet at Valle's Steak House in Newton. Miss Eleanor P. Bowen of Newton, president of the Alumnae Association, will welcome graduates and former directors of the school. An informal homecoming program has been planned for over 300 dinner guests. Former directors and assistant directors of the school who plan to attend the Homecoming programs include: Miss Florence Flores, director of nursing at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals; Miss Mabel McVicker, now retired and living in New Hampshire; Miss Hilda Batchelder, associate director of the School of Nursing at Rhode Island General Hospital in Providence; Miss May Lentell, presently retired and living in Canton; Miss Grace Russell of Montreal, Canada, who retired at Newton-Wellesley Hospital in 1962, and Miss Marguerite Hastings, director of nursing at Pittsfield (Mass.) Three Men Combine Talents To Launch Successful Bank

The Dedham Trust Company, one of the youngest banks in New England and one of the fastest growing, is a direct example of what determined and skillful men can do in a growing county.

Three men, fond of Dedham and with outstanding acquaintances, felt that Dedham and its position in Norfolk County needed more banking services than those which a savings bank, a cooperative bank, and a branch of the Norfolk County Trust Company were providing.

One of the three men was Vernon B. Hitchens who was rounding out 46 years with the State Street Trust Company of Boston and was retiring as a vice-president with a definite distaste for retirement; another was Attorney Andrew G. Geishecker, clerk of the District Court of Northern Norfolk County; the third was Francis A. Hunt, an advertising and public relations man.

Mr. Hitchens had served for six terms as selectman of Dedham and what he and Messrs. Geishecker and Hunt did to bring the new bank into being rested upon their strong popular following.

They arranged to place the capital stock of the new bank among individuals who would appreciate it, collected signatures of hundreds of persons to a statement expressing their belief that Norfolk County needed a new bank and then persuaded the State Department of Banking that this was so.

All this happened in 1958, only five years ago, and yet the Dedham Trust Company thus organized has become an institution of over $10 million in assets, with four branches serving various parts of Norfolk County. It is one of the fastest growing banks in the nation. A survey of the banks of the county reveals that this bank moved up 1,100 places in two years.

Mr. Hitchens and his associates went about the work with a zest. There has been no forced drive with a purpose of getting business under high pressure. As a matter of fact, the bank pays only 3 percent on savings accounts in an area where higher rates prevail. Yet the bank has 5,258 savings accounts. It is a retail bank in the true sense of the word. It has 5,500 small checking accounts. The spirit of service is indicated by the bank's business hours—8:30 to 4:30 for five days and 8:30 till noon on Saturday.

The growth has been such that the original quarters became inadequate and accommodations were gained by the opening of branches now numbering three, located at Walpole, Norwood, and Plainville, respectively. It is worthy of note in passing that with the opening of each branch there has been an increase of capital stock and in each instance the issue has been oversubscribed.

The same businesslike conduct which marks the 3 percent interest limit on savings deposits is indicated also in the fact that the bank has yet to pay its first cash dividend to stockholders, although stock dividends were paid. The management believes that with such fast growth the earnings should be retained for surplus and reserves. Apparently, the approximately 500 stockholders are quite content with this decision. At any rate, those persons looking for a chance to buy the stock have been unable to acquire any.

Vernon B. Hitchens is president of the bank, Andrew G. Geishecker is chairman of the board, and Francis A. Hunt is secretary. That Mr. Hitchens is far from a retired man is indicated by the list of 17 directorships which he holds. As of December 31, 1962, the bank had total deposits of $9,150,395 and total capital account of $845,767.

Back of all this growth, which inspires the management including the 17 directors, is a really wonderful county, Norfolk. Dedham is one of those colonial towns which gave Massachusetts such a magnificent place in history. It is the county seat. But there is more to the story than that.

It is one of the richest counties in all New England and as an opportunity for business development it stands high. It includes 18 growing communities which incidentally, suggests the possibility of still more branches for the trust company. Unlike Suffolk (which includes Boston), it has no blight areas.

Teen Time Topics

By DOT DUNN

Dear Dot,

I had made up my mind that I would avoid all blind dates. I've really had some pretty dull times whenever I've gone out on one of these. I know that the blind date would agree that he, too, had as bad a time. My best friend is all tensed up because of my decision. She wants me to double date with her steady's best friend. He lives in another state. Do you think this is too risky? T. M.

Dear T. M.

Many a nice boy has turned up on a blind date. I do feel that the person arranging for this type date should know you very well and that you should be able to trust their judgment. It appears to me that at last you have the proper ingredients. Try it again. What have you got to lose? It will be interesting to see if this works out. Do let us know.

Dear Dot,

My parents set a time for me to be home. I always have a hard time trying to break away from a group when I am out on a date. I hate to be the first one who starts breaking up the evening's fun. Please give me a tip on how to do this more tactfully? W. A.

Dear W. A.,

The most important thing for you to do is to always be perfectly honest. At least one half hour before your deadline drop a hint to your date. For example, try something like this, "Remember 11 o'clock is curfew at our house these days. I'm glad we have another half hour to continue our fun."

You have now let your date know that you are having an enjoyable time and that you'd like to stay longer if you were allowed to. You are also showing him that you are able to assume responsibility by following the family rules. He won't have to be dragged away. He'll help you leave without breaking up the party.

Favorable Climate

Chauncy Hall School Opens New Quarters

Chauncy Hall School, which has served for 135 years as one of Boston's oldest and most distinguished private schools for boys, moved to new quarters on May 14 at Cleveland Circle in the Brighton section of Boston.

The internationally-known preparatory school, a Copley Square landmark since 1910, occupies ultra-modern facilities at the Cleveland Circle Center. The new quarters comprise twice the space utilized by the school at 553 Boylston Street and includes over $100,000 in new educational equipment.

Chauncy Hall School was founded in 1828 by Gideon F. Thayer, educational pioneer, as a private elementary and secondary school for the sons of prominent Bostonians.

During its 135-year history, Chauncy Hall has evolved into one of the nation's outstanding private secondary schools to prepare young men for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and other institutions of science and engineering and colleges of liberal arts.

Awards To Student Volunteers

Special Swimming Classes By Recreation Department

The Newton Recreation Department has completed its first season of special class swimming for retarded children, held at the pool at the Sidney Hill Country Club.

In concluding this class, plaques were presented to the Newton College of the Sacred Heart and the Newton Junior College for the outstanding volunteer work of their students in this new program.

The presentations were made by John B. Penney, Newton Recreation Commissioner, and accepted by Miss Marcia Isaak for Sacred Heart College, and James Noble for Newton Junior College.

Gilbert Champagne, aquatic instructor for the Newton Red Cross, was in charge of the teaching program. More than 100 retarded Newton school children, ranging in age from 8 to 16, took advantage of the program.

Eligible youngsters were selected by Miss Margaret Otto and Mrs. Marjorie Jones of the Newton School Department. Classes were held two afternoons a week, starting last December and continuing until last week.

The Special Class P.T.A. co-sponsored this program, and provided the volunteer driver corps, who transported the children to and from the pool. P.T.A. volunteers also assisted in many other helpful activities. Mr. Robert E. Doherty, Recreation Supervisor, handled many of the duties that were connected with the organizing and conducting of the program.

Little League Lines

Members of the city's various Little League teams continue to give their all in the field and at the bat, a fact that makes for a close contest in the eyes of their adult followers and sponsors.

As yet no accurate prediction can be made as to which and how many of the youngsters are getting rudimentary training for bigger things in baseball, perhaps even for a big-league career.

It can be stated, however, that each and everyone of the little fellows is having a grand time in competitive play, even if, on occasion, his team takes a terrific shelling.

One of those times occurred last Monday, when the Tigers of Newton Central Little League, swamped the Orioles 13-0. The winning team's outstanding star was Peter Litman, who contributed a grand slam homer, a good, clean single, and chalked up a one-hitter on the mound.

One-sided, too, was the Newton South League game in which the Braves produced a 10-0 score with the Tigers their victims. The Braves' pitcher, Alex Leichook, set the pace with 10 strikeouts and three runs batted in.

It was a close contest as Newton East's Phillies and Red Sox ended up 3-2, with the Phillies on top. The Sox's Gary Mescone had a tough break, pitching a one-hitter, but still on the losing end.

The Newton West Redlegs-Pirates affair was more on the normal side, the Redlegs winning 7-2.

Sunday's games saw Newton West's White Sox and Orioles playing a 7-7 tie. Central's Tigers beat the Indians 10-7, the former's Lee Abbott, short stop, furnishing the spark with a grand slam homer. West's White Sox eked out a 7-6 win over the Orioles, Tom Chalmers striking out eight of the short-enders' hitters.

Also in Sunday play, the Senators of the East League handed the Cubs a 12-4 beating. South's Tigers, meantime, took the Colts 5-2, the winner's Alan Gans gave up only a single walk while fanning six. On the losing side, Jim Gamble produced a four-bagger.

It was a sort of sad story for John Melideo, pitcher for West's Braves. He had two hits and struck out 13, but his nine lost to the Red Sox 3-1. The winner's Joe Milewski pitched a three-hitter.

And finally, also in a Sunday game, Central's Phillies outdid the Pirates 11-5. Marty Weiss, Phillies short stop, had a home run and a two-bagger. His teammate, Alan Shapiro, pitched a fine game, allowing two hits only, and causing 11 batters to whiff.

In games last week, the Newton North Dodgers topped the Yankees 6-4, with Bill Cardarelli fanning five and allowing only four hits, and John Colantonio getting three hits

The committee which will work during the rummage sale includes the following: Misses Patricia and Joan Barr, Misses Rita and Joan Welch, Miss Eleanor Madden, Russell Hangarter, Mrs. Nora McCarthy, Misses Maria and Ann St. George, Timothy Meade, Mrs. Thomas Learned, Mrs. Floyd Muth, George Frankenberg, Mrs. John Powers, Mrs. Patrick Hannon, Mrs. Joseph Hannigan, Frank Mason, Mrs. John Keefe, Mrs. Anna Sparks, Mrs. Joseph Green, Mrs. Charles Norton, Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonnell, Mrs. George Devaney, Miss Margaret Shaughnessy, Charles Donohue, Mrs. Timothy Brennan, James Kivell, Miss Catherine Murphy, and Joseph H. McPherson.

Newton South action the same day saw the Colts take the Yankees 2-1. The winning run in that contest was driven in by Jerry Colton.

In a third game that day, one between Newton West's Orioles and Redlegs, the Oriole's win was also by the margin of a single run. A single by Skip Fawson scored Pete Antonellis in the final inning, and that run was the decider.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By Paul Shapiro

Elections for Student Council, Senior Class, and Junior Class officers took place last week at Newton High School.

Next year's Student Council will be headed by: Roger Matthews, president; Henry Barr, vice-president; Ginny Lockwood, secretary; and Anne Moore, treasurer.

The Junior Class will be led by John Delgizzi president, Jaqueline Maloof, vice-president; Ann Couzens, secretary; Glenn Harb, treasurer and Elliot Feldman, Marjorie Levine and Cathy Muther student council representatives.

Each candidate for these positions gave a short speech during assemblies before the sophomores and junior classes. An innovation in the election process this year had each prospective voter register prior to the election date. This was designed to increase the percentage of interested voters.

The Newton High School science quiz team defeated Waltham High School 300-250. Participating for Newton were Phil Gilman, Larry Goodman, Steve Levine, and Barry Rosen.

The recently elected National Honor Society met last week to choose new officers. Selected were: Tim Weiskel, president; Merrill Kaitz, vice-president; Judy Siskind, secretary; Mary-Eliza McDaniel, treasurer; and Peter Johnson and Dick Stone, literary editors.

The chapter also decided to shorten the time-period at Newton High School necessary for election from one year to one semester.

The 19th annual Newton High School Night at the Boston Pops will be Friday, May 31. Arthur Fiedler has invited Judy Rothstein, a senior at Newton High School, to be the soloist that night. She will play Mozart's Flute Concerto in G.

Newton High defeated South High in all four debates on U. S. trade policy. The Palmer House assembly of Tuesday, May 14, had a dual purpose. First, was a presentation of campaign speeches for next year's Palmer House offices, and second was distribution of Palmer House awards by Mr. Michael B. Gradone, Housemaster. Candidates for office are: Peter Berenson, Sandy Janes, Ruth Ellen Aronson, Mary Levin, Ellen Burns, Judy Kail, Carolyn Ellis, and Linda Levinson.

Receiving athletic awards were Jan Kozlowski, who played varsity football and station at Needham and Winchester Sts., Newton Highlands, on the edge of the "Miracle Mile" of industrial development, brought out a sizeable group of area property owners opposed to it.

Ernest G. Angevine of 95 Prince St., West Newton, attorney and former Alderman, appeared for the petitioner, and maintained in his presentation that the proposed Shell station would by no means be an eyesore, that it would create a great deal less traffic than any other form of drive-in industry, and that the Do-All Company, whose plant is at the rear of the site, had come to the conclusion that its lot, after six years of idleness, must either be sold or leased. For years, he said, it had been placed at the disposal of farmers for sale of their Christmas trees.

"It is up to you to decide what use of this property is best for the neighborhood," he told the Board, after describing the proposed layout and the plans for landscaping it.

A number of the immediate vicinity's property owners expressed their dislike for the proposal, and called attention to the already heavy traffic congestion at the corner. Only one property owner was in favor. Twenty-nine indicated opposition by a show of hands, after which the Board took the matter under advisement.

On a public works proposal for the laying out of a common sewer in Nahant St. 200 ft. westerly from the existing sewer in Dedham St., one property owner was in favor and one opposed. The objector said he was satisfied with the existing cess pool setup.

Opponents to a proposal for acceptance of Brierfield road, Ward 8, from Dedham street southerly, maintained that they would derive no benefit, and that the project would create a traffic problem and a menace to the children of the neighborhood. They said they preferred the privacy the present unfinished street provided.

Seventeen property owners raised hands to indicate approval of acceptance of Emmons and Mosman streets in Ward 3.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs' re-appointment of Frederick J. Fessenden Jr., as a member of the licensing board for six years was tabled. Other re-appointments recommended by the mayor were approved as follows:

Mrs. George F. (Josephine T.) Brewer, 1090 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, member of the Board of Trustees of the Free Library for five years.

Frederick A. Perkins Jr., Newton Fire Chief, as forest warden for one year.

Mrs. Malcolm N. (Esther L.) Jackson, 37 Cheswick road, Auburndale, a

Frederick S. Bacon, 42 Hyde avenue, Newton, Jrckson Homestead trustee for three years.

Karl H. Brock, 230 Walnut street, Newtonville, Planning Board member until Dec. 31, 1964, also as a member of the Park Commission for five years.

A. William Kunkel, librarian, trustee of the Read Fund and Eliot Memorial Fund for three years.

Russell S. Broad, 17 Brush Hill road, Newton Highlands, trustee of the Read Fund and Eliot Memorial Fund for three years.

Set for a hearing at the next regular Aldermen's meeting was a recommendation of the Building Commission that if, at a hearing, the Nonantum Building at Newton Corner, which had a fire last December, is determined a nuisance or dangerous to the neighborhood, the owner either alter or dispose of it.

Denied was a petition for increasing the Messenger Nursing Home at 339 Newtonville avenue from one of 11 to one of 43 beds.

Approved was a request made to the Finance Committee by the Recreation Commission for an appropriation of $6000 for a reclamation project in Crystal Lake. Alderman Earle D. Wood explained that it was intended to install a large, propeller-type circulator at the lake to keep its water in motion, thus improving it for swimming and preserving its fish population. Weed control was also proposed, he said.

Also approved: An appropriation of $11,600 for installation of a 50-ton scale at the Public Works Crafts street yard, A Water Commissioner's request for an appropriation of $1385 for a main extension in Albert road, Ward 4, appropriations of $20,300 and $9800 for acceptance under the betterment law of Regina road and Regina terrace, Ward 4.

Approval was given a petition of Vincent L. Sturniolo for permission to replace old storage tanks for inflammables and to increase their capacity at 107 Elm street, West Newton.

Prolonged debate, for and against, greeted a proposal of Alderman William H. Prentice that the Board's rules be amended so as to prevent facetious, ill-advised or "impulsive" resolutions from being made on the floor.

Under the proposal, "Except for a resolution honoring a deceased member or former member of the Honorable Board, no resolution shall be read from the floor of the Board and no vote shall be made on a resolution unless it shall have either appeared on the docket one meeting prior to the reading or vote or, the city clerk shall mail to each Alderman a copy of the resolution with the name of the proposing Alderman at least seven days prior to the

Lincoln-Eliot, Stearns PTA's Meet Jointly

A joint PTA meeting of Stearns and Lincoln-Eliot auditorium Tuesday, May 21, with Dr. Charles E. Brown, school superintendent, as guest speaker.

The program was prepared by the following committee members:

Stearns PTA — Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Doucette, Mrs. Samuel Patriacca, Mrs. Mrs. Joseph Antonellis, Mrs. Augustus Baima, Mrs. Melvin Harrigan and Mrs. Thomas Notaromoso.

Lincoln-Eliot PTA—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Malia, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Fugazzotto, Mrs. John Kaljian, Mrs. Roland Hart, Mrs. Henry Borey and Mrs. George Wright.

The proposal was defeated. The vote: Yes 9, No 10. A two-thirds vote was required for acceptance.

Devotees of tobacco won out over non-smokers and precisionists on the Board who feel that its rules should have no tampering. Debate was lengthy following a motion to suspend the rules late in the meeting to allow smoking in the Aldermanic chamber.

Part of the argument was on whether the matter of smoking should be decided by roll-call vote, and a roll call was decided against by voice vote. Finally, only four members voting against, smoking was allowed, and most of the other 15 promptly lit up.

Following adjournment, which came 45 minutes short of midnight, President Wendell R. Bauckman, addressing the backs of the members as they made for the door, advised them to study the air rights law in their spare time at home. "We are going to hear more about it," he warned.

Previously, as the meeting's final piece of business, the Board adopted the following summer schedule:

The Aldermen will meet on June 3 and 24, July 15, Aug. 5 and 26, Sept. 9, Sept. 30 and Oct. 14. The Committee on Claims and Rules will sit on June 10, July 8, Sept. 16 and Oct. 7.

New Chairman Is Congratulated

Local Republicans Give Uehlein Unanimous Vote

Edward C. Uehlein, of Waban, was the unanimous choice for chairman for the Newton Republican City Committee, at a capacity turnout of members at the recent meeting.

He will replace Carleton T. Merrill who has resigned the chairmanship after serving the organization for eight years.

More than 150 leading Newton Republicans attended the meeting including members of the City Committee and elective GOP personnel of the city and state.

Mr. Uehlein, known throughout the city for his many civic activities, is a past president of the Newton Republican Club and a prominent worker for the Newton GOP in a wide range of phases of their political accomplishments.

His most recent efforts in planning and developing the Newton Republican Reorganization Program Committee, of which he is general chairman, has been unusually successful in its revitalizing the entire Newton Republican organization.

Retiring Chairman Merrill was presented a Paul Revere Bowl by Vice Chairman Robert B. Tennant on behalf of the Ward Chairmen, Precinct Captains and Committee members.

He also received a silver pitcher from former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., who made the presentation for city officials and elective Republicans.

During the business session of the meeting a resolution was unanimously passed expressing complete approval of the Massachusetts Crime Commission's request for $569,000 for use in continuing its investigation into corruption in State affairs.

State GOP Chairman Frederick C. Dumaine, Jr. and Governor Peabody have been advised by letter of the Newton City Committee's stand in this matter.

Swimming Pools For City Being Planned

Mayor Gibbs is organizing a citizens' committee which will work out plans for the establishment of one or more public swimming pools in Newton as part of the city's recreational program.

T. Frank Copp, a member of the Newton Recreation Commission will be designated as chairman of the committee.

The Mayor is now in the process of writing to about a score of persons throughout Newton asking them to serve on the committee which will be headed by Copp.

Gibbs said that the need for swimming pools has been demonstrated and that the purpose of forming the committee is to determine how best to get them.

Three different bills filed by Newton legislators asking the Metropolitan District Commission to build a swimming pool in the city are now awaiting action by the Legislature.

Whether the MDC will be directed by legislative mandate to construct a swimming pool in Newton is uncertain.

Even if such a measure should be approved Newton probably needs more than one pool, the Mayor observed.

Mayor Gibbs said he will ask the committee to split into different study groups and explore all phases of the matter.

200 Attend Democratic Dinner Here

Approximately 200 Newton Democrats attended a victory dinner at Valle's Sunday night celebrating the election of Governor Peabody and three Democratic legislators—Senator Michael J. Galvin and Representatives Joseph G. Bradley and Irving Fishman.

Herbert Regal served as dinner chairman. Mrs. Ruth Mezzoff was in charge of decorations. Chairman Lawrence Cooke of the Democratic City Committee delivered the welcoming address.

Governor Peabody spoke on strengthening the convention system in order to bolster the Party structure. Attorney James Waters of Newton Centre was presented a plaque for 50 years of service to the Democratic party in Newton.

The Rev. Myron Bloy, one of the 10 ministers who was arrested with the Freedom Riders, gave the benediction.

BRADBURY SEASHOLES

Dr. Bradbury Seasholes, 163 Cypress St., Newton Centre, has been appointed assistant professor of government, and associate director for political studies at the Lincoln Filene Centre for Citizenship and Public Affairs at Tufts University.

A political and social scientist, Dr. Seasholes' special interests are in the field of urban and metropolitan politics.

He is currently engaged on a study of the impact of the corruption issue on an urban electorate.

He is an assistant professor of Political Science at M.I.T., and also has taught at the University of North Carolina. He attended Amherst and graduated from Oberlin College.

Dr. Seasholes is married to the former Frances G. Cressey. They have two daughters, Laura and Catherine.

Great Britain Post For Local Girl In Summer

Miss Eleanor S. Tripp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Tripp Jr., of 110 Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill, has been appointed group leader to Great Britain for the 1963 summer program of The Experiment in International Living.

She is currently teaching the sixth grade at the Shady Hill School in Cambridge.

Miss Tripp will play an important role this summer in a program involving some 1300 persons from the ages of 16 to 35 who are going abroad with the program to gain first-hand knowledge of another country's customs and culture at person-to-person level.

She is a graduate of Smith College in 1958 with an A.B. degree in history. She spent the next year at the London School of Economics and traveled extensively on the Continent. She spent the summer of 1958 in a Mexican village with a project concerned with the recreation of school children.

Cool To Clown

Little Audrey Dana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dana, 99 Hagen Rd., Newton Centre, seems completely unimpressed as Prince Paul, Ringling Brothers Circus clown, explains entry in drawing contest sponsored by Boston store.

Annual Tribute To Honor War Dead

Residents throughout the Newtons will pay a devout and grateful tribute in Memorial Day ceremonies on Thursday to those who have given their lives on battle-grounds around the world as part of the price paid for the freedom which is this nation's most cherished possession.

Solemn exercises will honor the memory of those who fought and died on the flanks of Bunker Hill and the stony sides of Gettysburg's Round Top, those who perished in the fierce cold of Valley Forge, and those who met death near the frigid Yalu River.

France—for all who paid with their lives to keep America free.

Behind the bands and the massed colors of patriotic organizations, veterans of two wars and of the fighting in Korea will march again in tribute to their fallen comrades.

Memorial Day itself has undergone an evolution since its inception in 1869 when General John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, designated May 30 as a day on which the graves of Union soldiers were to be decorated.

The intent of Decoration Day, as it was then called, was broadened to include the graves of Confederate soldiers and finally the resting places of American soldiers in all wars.

Gradually it also became a day when the people made pilgrimages to cemeteries to kneel in prayer at the graves of loved ones whose memories still are as bright and green as the grass under which they sleep.

This will be true on Thursday even though attention will be centered principally on the parades, military ceremonies and oratory of noted public figures.

Newton will formally observe Memorial Day with a colorful parade starting at 10:30 a.m. on the holiday morning and with solemn rites at which the participants will include Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, former Congressman Laurence Curtis and former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr. Close to 100,000 persons are expected to watch the parade.

Starting from the junction of Washington and Crafts streets in Newtonville, the head of the parade will move west on Washington street to Walnut street, south on Walnut street to Commonwealth avenue, and the War Memorial Flag Staff where the marchers will halt for the placing of wreaths and prayers by the Rev. Robert W. Colledge of the Church of the Messiah.

These tests will be given at Newton High School, Walnut street, Newtonville, and Newton South High School, Brandeis road, Newton Centre.

Newton police and safety officials wish to inject a warning to motorists for car operation Memorial Day.

Inasmuch as the holiday activities will be confined to one day, highway and off-highway traffic may be bottle-necked into a few jam-packed hours.

Caution, courtesy, consideration must be the watchwords for the day, one dedicated to reverence and memory—not mayhem.

Postman Rings More Than Twice

Cosmo D. Sorabella, right, Newton postman, who rings doorbells in off-duty hours to aid cause of education, chats with Miss Dorothea Cogswell, Newton regional chairman of program, and his "boss" in campaign.

Postman In Doorbell Drive For Education

A Newton postman, who was denied the opportunity of even graduating from high school, is helping in his own way to further the cause of higher education.

Cosmo D. Sorabella has volunteered to serve in Boston University's Sixth Alumni Annual Program, working in the Newton Upper Falls area where he has delivered mail for a number of years.

The good-natured postal carrier, who has already begun visiting university alumni in this area in his off-duty hours, recently volunteered his services to Miss Dorothea Cogswell, 83 Carver St., Newton, a regional chairman for the university program.

Miss Cogswell, who has known the postman ever since he began to deliver mail on her street some years ago, welcomed Mr. Sorabella's support and assigned him as a visitor. "He told me he did not think he needed to be an alumnus to help raise the funds that are needed to improve higher education," she said.

Actually, Mr. Sorabella confides that there is an element of selfishness in what he is doing. "You see," he says, "I have an 11-year-old daughter

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Secret Crime Board Report Called Political Time Bomb

A political time bomb is ticking noisily on Beacon Hill. It is scheduled to explode next week when additional indictments of prominent public figures will be sought by Attorney General Edward W. Brooke on the basis of information assembled by the Massachusetts Crime Commission.

Whatever explosions occur next week, when the Suffolk County Grand Jury makes its findings, are likely to be repeated at intervals well into the summer.

These are tense days at the State House as jittery politicians await the next bombshell from the crime commission and nervously speculate on whom it will land and what its repercussions will be.

Behind closed doors in the suite of offices occupied by Attorney General Brooke one of his top aides is preparing new charges for submission to the Grand Jury as a result of the latest report made to Brooke by the crime board.

Honor The Dead And Living

This city again pauses to honor and remember the hero dead of the nation's wars.

As communities across our far-flung land observe Memorial Day, there must be forceful realization of the awesome price mankind pays when major disputes between nations are settled on the battle field.

Despite the crosses row on row and the cemeteries with the countless little fluttering flags, men still seem more inclined to follow the example of our cave-dwelling progenitors. They merrily bashed in their opponents heads as a solution to the settling of problems. The pugnacious juices of those savages still flow in our veins and in some are very close to the surface and ready for instant overflow.

There was a time when wars were fought by soldiers usually well removed from cities and civilians. However, the recent refinements of civilization brought war with its bombs, death and destruction to the home fronts where men, women and children felt as did the combat soldiers in the front lines.

And, now that mankind has access to nuclear explosives, the big blasters of World War II are as so many fire-crackers, and entire communities stand to be puffed out like candles on a cake.

In honoring the dead of all wars and placing flowers at their graves, let us not forget those living survivors for whom war is not over; the men in our veteran hospitals.

They are often overlooked in the blare of martial music, the parades, and thme flow of inspired oratory. Thankfully, veteran's organizations and dedicated individuals remember them in war's backwash.

So, on this Memorial Day as we salute the war dead let us remember the living survivors in hospitals across the land.

Let us also pray that political aspirations, personal ambitions, the temptation of headline publicity, and downright heedlessness of the dangers involved, do not thrust us bodily into any contest where the horrors of nuclear destruction may be unleashed.

Mrs. Stenberg is the college's coordinator of public relations. The pourers were Mrs. Gregory Samoylenko and Mrs. William McCarron. Also present were Mrs. George

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JOAN MOFENSON

The music department of Newton South presented its annual "Pops" Night last Thursday in the cafeteria. Members of the Concert Band, Girls Chorus, Concert Choir, A Cappella Choir, and Orchestra, as well as soloists participated in the program.

Soloists were Steven Greenwald (trumpet), Gerald Russell (snare drum), Nathan Portnoi (timpani), Elaine Woo (piano), and Barbara Hurwitz (cello). In addition, Robert Polansky, Annetta Labourene, and Rita Flanagan, performed vocal solos.

Goodwin House Council has opened a Snack Bar to all students and teachers as an experiment. The Snack Bar is run by students and is open between 1:17 and 3:00 p.m. Candy, cookies, brownies, and soft drinks are sold. If successful, it is likely that the Snack Bar will continue next year.

The senior members of the National Honor Society were recently invited to a luncheon at Valle's Steak House by the Rotary Club of Newton. Speakers at the luncheon were Mayor Donald Gibbs and Superintendent of Schools Charles Brown as well as other local leaders and educators.

The Society awards 204 scholarships worth $130,000 annually to qualified senior members of the Society. Eligibility is determined by scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests which are given in the fall. Jane will attend Radcliffe next year, and Randy will go to Yale.

The senior class members recently attended their final assembly of the year. At the assembly they were told of plans for the Senior Symposium, Senior Prom, and Graduation.

Senior Symposium was held last week. The seniors all attended assemblies at which national and local figures spoke. They divided into informal discussion groups, enabling the students to express their opinions on the general theme of "Youth — Committed or Not." Every senior had written previously a paper on this topic. The two best papers will be read at graduation.

The Senior Prom will be next Monday at the Totem Pole Ballroom. Graduation exercises will be held at 6:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

School Libraries Seen In Need Of Trained Staffs

Miss Elvajan Hall, supervisor of school library services, gave the members of the School Committee, at their meeting Monday night, a comprehensive description of the city's school libraries which, she said, under the present setup do not and cannot provide the type of service that meets the standards of the American Library Association and the NEA.

Miss Hall had high praise for the groups of mothers and PTA members who volunteer a great amount of time in an effort to provide the services the school libraries need—services that, in the interest of efficiency, should be supplied by a staff of paid professional librarians who have been trained in library schools.

The ultimate need, she said, was a staff of 26 paid people, "including two consultants and myself," in order adequately to staff the school libraries, most of them in the elementary schools.

In addition to the lack of staffing, one of the major problems to be overcome is the one involving lack of adequate quarters for school libraries, Miss Hall said, and explained that in many of the schools here what passes for a library is quartered in a basement room not easily accessible to the pupils and students who need to make use of it.

Seventeen years ago, Miss Hall said, the only school libraries were in Newton High School and in three junior highs. Today, five junior highs and 24 elementary schools have them, she said. Of them, she added, Newton High is the one school that very nearly maintains the standard set by the American Library Association, but the major problem is in the elementary schools, each of which has a library room of sorts, all without a professional staff and depending entirely on the services of volunteers.

Miss Hall declared that the school library does for the school what the public library does for the community, but that neither can supply the needs of the other.

"We have more library effort here than any other New England community," Miss Hall went on, "but we have no librarians." Staffing is needed, she said, and pointed out that social studies, for one, put a great demand on the library.

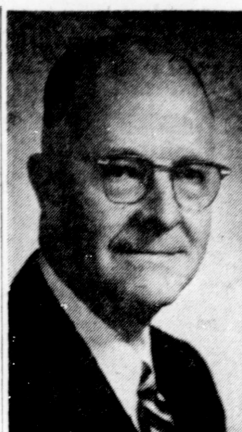

No library meets the NEA standard for book collections, she said, and called 15 books per pupil an adequate goal. The new formula recommends from 6,000 to 10,000 volumes per library.

Miss Hall said she had no hope of attaining the needed staff of 26 professionals in the near future. Their cost would be approximately $100,000, she estimated in reply to a question. She had no answer for a question from Committeeman Francis P. Frazier, who wanted to know if she knew how the citizens of the city would react to the added 50 cents on the tax rate the professional staff would cost.

Toward the end of the discussion, which consumed considerable time, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs told Miss Hall and the committee that a team of consultants had been engaged to make a survey of all phases of the city's libraries, that no deadline had been set, and that the matter under discussion would be included in their study.

Miss Hall said that she would like to see at least two professionals added to the school library staff by next year for full time in the larger schools and part time in the smaller ones.

Chairman Haskell C. Freedman promised Miss Hall to have duplicates made of her

Papal Blessing Bestowed At Daley-Gallagher Wedding

Now in Bermuda are Mr. William Michael Daley and his bride, the former Miss Jane Frances Gallagher, whose marriage took place recently at St. Ignatius Church. His Eminence Cardinal Cushing officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony. A reception followed at the Hotel Somerset in Boston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Gallagher of West Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicholas Daley of Wellesley Hills are the bridegroom's parents.

Escorted by her father, the bride's embroidered pure silk peau de soie gown had a bateau neckline, short sleeves and a chapel-length train.

A matching cap trimmed with seed pearls, held in place her chapel-length veil. Her flowers were phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Gaudet of Newport, R. I., was maid of honor, while Mrs. Alfred Bugeau of Needham was matron of honor. Miss Jill Dana of Bradford, Pa., Mrs. Robert E. Gallagher of Framingham, Mrs. Paul A. Lynch of Brookline, Mrs. Richard H. Lussier of Brighton and Miss Sheila Cosgrove of Newton were the bridesmaids.

Young Mona Ann Gallagher of West Newton, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Thomas Matthew Daley of Wellesley Hills. Peter A. Igoe of Islip, Long Island, N. Y., joined Robert E. Gallagher of Framingham, brother of the bride, John B. Coyle and Owen P. Hughes, both of Brighton, James A. Catter Jr., of West Newton, Edward C. Parker of Pawtucket, R. I., Richard A. Reilly of Attleboro and Roy S. Villela of New Bedford as ushers.

The bridegroom prepared at St. Sebastian's Country Day School for Boston College.

Alumnae Forum

Mrs. Robert Fisher, 37 Fairfax street, West Newton, Sweetbriar College graduate, and Mrs. Matthew B. Jones, 58 Plainfield street, Waban, whose alma mater is Vassar, were local representatives of sponsoring colleges for the fifth annual Alumnae Forum in which nearly 1000 women representing alumnae groups in Greater Boston participated at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel, Boston, recently.

Nominating committee members were: Henry S. C. Cummings, Chairman, Russell S. Broad, and Jack M. Roberts.

Featured speaker of the evening was Paul M. Siskind, Professor of Law at Boston University. His topic was the "New Conflict of Interest Law in Massachusetts" and its effect on state and local officials.

A report of the year's activities by the Board of Directors was made to the association by the secretary. Colored slides of areas receiving the attention of the Board were shown. Enforcement of traffic regulations, repainting of dead-end road barriers, replacement of worn-out reflectors, repainting of traffic signs, trash removal from MDC land at Nahanton street were taken care of on request.

Residents on Hartmann road decided that with help from the OHDA, they no longer needed their Hartmann Road Association and turned over their remaining treasury to the OHDA.

The Board of Aldermen was praised for passage of the new soil removal ordinance amendment which is being applied at the St. Joseph's Novitiate at the corner of Winchester and Nahanton streets.

Alderman Earle D. Wood received special mention because of his recommendation that the City of Newton should not accept an offer for a parcel of its land at Goddard and Christina streets, thus keeping intact a choice red maple swamp.

Other projects in which the Board of Directors were actively involved were opposition to the Jenney petition to rezone the Spezzano farm to Residence E for three six-story apartments; opposition to the Krupp petition to rezone 138 Florence street to Residence; opposition to the Do-All Boston Company's petition for storage of inflammables and permission for curb cuts for a Shell Gasoline Station at the hazardous Needham, Winchester, Dedham intersection.

Positive action, in the form of active co-operation with the Chestnut Hill Improvement Association in its petition for Residence D zoning on the northeast side of Florence street, was a major achievement. Myron Atlas, now a member of the OHDA Board of Directors, is slated for the presidency of the CHIA for the coming year.

Alderman Theodore D. Mann and Representative Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., attended the meeting.

Brooke and the members of his staff are tight-lipped concerning the nature of the top-secret material turned over to them by the crime commission, pointing out that the law prohibits the disclosure of any information until and unless indictments are returned by a Grand Jury.

But they make it plain that they expect new indictments will be returned after Brooke goes before the Grand Jury next week.

Because the crime commission has been quietly probing into the operation of several State departments in its efforts to uncover evidence of wrongdoing, there is no certainty as to the agency or the individuals at which the latest report is aimed.

Rumors have chased rumors at the State House. Speculative stories have been published in the newspapers. Educated guesses have been made based on the knowledge that the crime probes have been tracking down leads contained in reports issued by State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley.

The crime board, it is believed on Beacon Hill, has recently centered its attention on one or more elected office-holders, one or more appointive officials and at least one public figure no longer in the State service.

Whether the report turned over to Brooke deals with any or all of them is a carefully guarded secret.

However, it is understood that another report from the crime commission will follow the one now in the hands of the Attorney General.

Meanwhile, there is no doubt whatever that funds will be furnished by Governor Peabody and the Legislature to the crime commission so that it can conduct an intensive one-year investigation into alleged corruption in the State government.

The indictments which already have resulted from the crime board's work and other shocking disclosures virtually certain to come, eliminate any question that this will be done.

It's uncertain whether the crime commission will get its money in a lump sum or on the installment plan. One way or the other, it's sure to get the funds it needs.

It is somewhat ironic that the crime board should be seeking more money than is allowed to run the Attorney General's department for a year. Many people also find it difficult to understand that the crime commission has powers of subpoena which the Attorney General doesn't possess.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that this crime board has justified its existence and apparently is prepared to substantiate its claim for $569,000.

State House observers assume that any agency, including a crime commission, asks for more money than it actually expects to get. That may or may not be true in this case.

In any event, the pressure of public opinion will be great enough to assure that the commission receives enough money to conduct a full-fledged investigation in depth.

The indictments which already have developed from the crime commission investigation made a terrific impact upon both the public and politicians. Those expected to come will have just as explosive an effect.

Governor Peabody presumably will make the decision on how much the crime commission is allowed. Few legislators will oppose or seek to reduce whatever amount he recommends. Some law-makers may have scant enthusiasm for a far-reaching crime board probe. But voting against it would be tantamount to committing political suicide.

Peabody, already hard pressed to find the money he needs to run the State government, is confronted with the perplexing problem of where to get the funds for the crime commission.

New Move Is Planned To Curb Gov. Council

If any more members of the Governor's Council are indicted, it would give strong impetus to a move to trim down the powers of that body which has been under so much fire. A proposal for amending the State Constitution to abolish the Council was rejected at last week's constitutional convention of the two branches of the Legislature.

However, two bills to strip the Council of some of its authority are still pending in the Legislature.

Strangely enough, Governor

Peabody reportedly feels that one of the measures goes too far and that the other doesn't go far enough. He may submit a compromise proposal of his own.

It perhaps should be explained that the Legislature and Governor can take from the Executive Council any powers except those specifically delegated to the Council by the State Constitution. The Council can be deprived of its constitutional powers only by an amendment to the Constitution which would have to be passed by two consecutive Legislatures and then approved by the people.

Republican Representative Mary B. Newman of Cambridge, who may be the GOP candidate for Lieutenant Governor next year, is the sponsor of a bill which would strip the Council of all the powers except those delegated to it in the Constitution.

If that measure were enacted, Council approval would be necessary only on appointments of judges, court clerks, notaries, public administrators and masters of chancery. The Governor would have a free hand in making all other appointments.

Democratic Senator Michael

J. Galvin of Newton is the author of a less drastic bill which would enable the Governor to appoint certain State department heads without the necessity of getting Council confirmation.

Of the two, Galvin's bill is the more likely to win legislative approval.

Peabody, however, would like a little more power than Galvin's measure would give him but realizes the Legislature probably would balk at Mrs. Newman's bill. So he may submit his own plan.

What the Legislature will do is uncertain. But it would be very likely to influence the thinking and voting of some legislators if any more Councilors are indicted.

Peabody Advisers Alarmed by Survey

Members of Governor Peabody's staff are alarmed over the findings of a state-wide survey of public sentiment which showed that Peabody has lost a great deal of support during the five months he has been in office.

Actually, the poll turned up nothing which political writers and columnists have not reported in their efforts to appraise the drop in Peabody's popularity.

Peabody and his top advisers apparently were shaken by the survey returns because the poll was directed by one of the Governor's close friends and confidantes.

Veteran politicians have been aware for some time that Peabody's political stock had plummeted and have even discussed the possibility of backing a candidate against him at next year's Democratic State Convention or in the 1964 Democratic primary.

However, Peabody still has plenty of time to make a comeback and to regain the support he has lost.

Former Governor Foster Furcolo floundered badly during his six months in office. At this stage in 1957 few observers thought Furcolo had any chance of winning a second term in 1958. But he pulled himself together and went on to win reelection by a big margin.

A comparatively few factors appear to be responsible for the drop in Peabody's popularity and for the attitude of many persons who voted for him last November but now say they wouldn't do so again.

His action in advocating a whopping increase in the State income tax was an unsound move.

Many people feel he went too far in his fight to abolish capital punishment.

He got himself into hot water with some of his attempted appointments.

His support of a $2600-a-year pay raise for legislators aroused resentment of some voters.

probably would be forgotten if Peabody settles down, demonstrates sound leadership and gives a good administration.

Peabody's problems stem at least partly from his own inexperience and the inexperience of the people around him on whom he must depend for advice.

He still has time to rebuild his political fences, and there are some indications that he may already have started doing that.

His appointment of former Boston Mayor John B. Hynes as State Bank Commissioner was an excellent one. Hynes should be a great asset to the Peabody administration and to Peabody himself.

Margaret Heckler Reports On Gov.'s Council Service

Executive Councillor Margaret M. Heckler today issued a report to the people of her councillor district on her first five months of service in the body which passes on Governor Peabody's appointments.

Mrs. Heckler emphasized that her purpose is to be "neither an obstructionist nor a rubber stamp but to judge each nomination on its merit."

She referred to her post in the Council as the "most fascinating and frustrating" in the State government.

Mrs. Heckler reviewed the controversies which developed over Governor Peabody's nominations for Registrar of Motor Vehicles and for a place on the State Parole Board.

She recalled the job shuffle in which Peabody sought to shift Clement A. Riley from the Registry to the Parole Board and to name Representative Paul A. Menton as Registrar. Riley was to get a job on the Parole Board from which Menton's father was retiring.

"The excellent work which the League of Women Voters did in preparing research and an evaluation of qualifications necessary for service on the Parole Board and in the parole field in general had made me keenly aware of the sensitivity of this post," Mrs. Heckler declared.

She explained that she objected to having the appointments tied together in a package deal and that she also opposed the nominees on the basis of their individual qualifications.

Mrs. Heckler said that as a result of the stand she took Governor Peabody withdrew his nomination of Riley to the Parole Board and instead named Joseph McCormack of West Roxbury, a career man in parole work.

She asserted that she opposed Menton's appointment as Registrar on the ground that he lacked necessary administrative experience and that the position was too important for "on-the-job-training."

"I voted against Representative Menton, first of all to block the Parole Board appointment and secondly because when asked about the deficiencies of the highway program he offered no constructive solutions, no independent judgment. He said nothing more than that he would follow the Governor's program," Mrs. Heckler asserted.

"I liked Representative Menton and felt he had integrity, but placing him in the Registry when he had been a parole officer and social worker seemed to me like calling the plumber when the roof leaks," she added.

Councillor Heckler expressed the conviction that Peabody's second nomination of ex-Representative James R. Lawton "was a superior one for the position." She pointed out that Lawton had served on the legislative committee on motor vehicles and highway safety, had sponsored legislation in this field and showed "how knowledgeable" he was in this area when he was interviewed by the Council. She said she had been glad to vote for Lawton and is confident he will be "an honorable and excellent Registrar."

Mrs. Heckler warmly praised Peabody's appointment of Professor Cornelius Moynihan of Newton to the Superior Court. She said that as a former student of Professor Moynihan at Boston College Law School she recognized his outstanding ability and national reputation as an authority on many phases of the law.

Bernie & Ruby Still Think It's Fun To Be Nice

Bernie and Ruby's Langley Food Shop at 30 Langley road, Newton Centre, is celebrating its 13th anniversary from Monday, June 3 through Saturday, June 8 with terrific 13-cent specials that Bernie and Ruby hope will reflect in some small way their appreciation to the public that has been so good to them through the years.

Bernie Dresner and Ruby Dragoff are partners in the delicatessen and restaurant business. They also are brothers-in-law who are married to sisters, the former Beatrice and Pearl Perles.

The popular food shop started on June 6, 1950, with one employee and 19 seats, plus the slogan, "It's Fun to Be Nice."

Today, after several enlargements of their quarters, they have 92 seats and 19 employees, and they still stand behind the policy, "It's Fun to Be Nice."

There have been many innovations which have proved to be popular at the Langley Food Shop throughout the years, and the friendly atmosphere that exists between customers and help are the accomplishments of which Bernie and Ruby are most proud.

The Langley Breakfast Club started years ago with a small group enjoying breakfast or morning coffee. It has developed into a daily ritual with Colonel Carl Larsen serving as president, Hugo Separini as vice-president and Lester Glassberg as secretary. Once a month the members plan dinner at one of the other leading restaurants in the area.

Langley Food Shop has won widespread fame throughout the state for its Party Platter Specials which are so tasty, nourishing and decorative that many social and business leaders just turn over their orders carte blanche, knowing they will always be more than satisfactory.

Many of the waiters at Langley are students at Andover Newton Theological School, and Bernie and Ruby are happy to have had the association and help of 114 students of the school during their 13 years in business.

On Page 5 of today's Graphic there will be seen many of the special prizes

being featured from June 3 through June 8. Bernie and Ruby say thanks, and they still believe "It's Fun to

ming pool could be financed by public donations.

Another is whether the city itself should build a pool. The Mayor said he didn't know where he could get the necessary funds to construct a swimming pool but that he would endeavor to do so if the committee decides that it should be done.

A push undoubtedly will be made on Beacon Hill for the passage of a bill under which the MDC would build a swimming facility.

The committee also will be asked to submit recommendations on where any swimming pools should be located. Mayor Gibbs, in commenting on his move to organize the citizens' committee, expressed the conviction that Newton's recreational facilities should be updated and expanded.

He also pointed out that during the summer season Crystal Lake is occasionally closed to bathers because of pollution of the waters.

Women Voters Elect Officers at Meeting

Two featured speakers addressed the annual meeting and luncheon of the Newton League of Women Voters at the Chestnut Hill Country Club last week.

Attorney Herbert P. Gleason, president of the Citizens Committee for the Boston Public Schools, in discussing "Education: Its Politics and Purposes," stated that he came to speak about a problem that Newton is "supposed to handle very well."

Asserting that the aim of education is "to put meaning into life," Frederick R. Weed, headmaster of the Roxbury Latin School, spoke about the purposes of education.

Also present at the meeting and luncheon were three members of the Newton School Committee: Chairman Haskell Freedman and league members, Mrs. Grace Whitmore and Mrs. Norma Mintz. Mr. Freedman briefly addressed the group.

A faculty member and public relations director of Newton Junior College, Mrs. Sally Stonberg, called to the attention of the League various new aspects of the junior college program available to the public.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Proctor Houghton was elected president of the Newton League for the next two years, with Mrs. Lawrence Rubin as first vice-president and Mrs. Douglas Reynolds as second vice-president.

Little League Lines

Casey Stengel, big league manager extraordinary, has remarked many times over the years that "if we get the pitchin', we win ball games." That holds true in Little League play, too, as witness some of last week's contests here.

Take the Newton North Indians-Cardinals game, for instance. The Indians' John Faucher struck out 11 of the batters facing him and walked only one — the result, a win for the Indians, 8-1.

Another well-pitched game was that between Newton Central Orioles and Indians, with the former on top by a score of 10-1. The pitcher for the Orioles was Peter Cully, who had a one-hitter for four innings.

Pitching was good for both sides in the Newton South Red Sox-Yankees contest, but the Sox's first sacker, Jeff Freeman, hit a homer in the third, and that was the difference. The score, 7-5.

Ability to hit the ball beyond the reach of fielders has its place in baseball, too, and both teams had able bats as Newton West's Redlegs and White Sox battled to a 4-4 tie. A deciding factor was the Sox's Steve Ruane's two-run homer in the sixth that brought the contest all even.

In a Newton East game, the Cubs topped the Athletics, 11-5. Stu Silverman stood out for the Cubs in that one. The catcher's pair of doubles accounted for two RBI's.

Rarely is there a more one-sided game than the one in which the Newton South Braves overpowered the Yankees 20-1.

By no means one-sided was a West League game which the Pirates won over the Braves. A score on a fielder's choice gave the game to the Pirates, 5-4.

In a North League contest, the Yankees romped, defeating the Dodgers 14-1. The Yank's John Arsenian tossed a four-hitter and had three RBI's with his potent bat. His teammate Dave DiMazio rapped in four runs on a single and two doubles.

Pitching decided the Central League Pirates-Braves game, with John Flanagan walking only three while fanning nine.

The Senators beat the Phillies 4-1 in the East League with Tom Rezutti starring at bat. He belted a two-run homer.

One of three Friday night games was a bit lop-sided, the Senators slaughtering the Red Sox 16-3 in East League action.

In another, the South Braves won over the Red Sox 8-6, with the Braves' right fielder, Peter Iagulli, pacing by means of three singles.

Central Phillies won out over the Tigers in Central play Friday, 6-3. Marty Weiss of the Phillies having a double and two singles that accounted for three runs. Bert Litman, first sacker, hit a home run in a losing cause.

Battista Gives Our Lady's High Fifth No-Hitter

Big news in last week's schoolboy baseball was another chapter in Our Lady's no-hit serial story.

Tony Battista, right hander, wrote this one. He pitched his school team into the Hall of Fame for the fifth time this season, and his no-hitter was his second. St. Clement's High was the victim in Cabot Park, and the score was 1-0.

George Berry, another valued member of Our Lady's pitching staff, had no no-hitter Sunday afternoon, but he did pitch and bat his team into the Eastern Massachusetts tournament by concocting a 7 to 5 win over St. Patrick's of Watertown. The game was a replay. The previous Tuesday, Our Lady's lost to St. Pats, 4-3, but Coach Tim Hurley protested to the CYO Board, and a replay was ordered. So, Berry helped make it a victory by striking out 11 and singling across two runs.

Sacred Heart, the other Newton team in the Catholic Suburban League, meantime, lost its final game of the season as it succumbed to North Cambridge Catholic High, 5-1, on Rindge Field, Cambridge.

Bruce MacLean of Newton South High School had a field day as he paced his team to a 15-4 win over Brockton High on the latter's home field. Mac allowed eight scattered hits while striking out 12 batters. Also, he had three singles and a triple at bat.

On Friday, however, South was held to one run while Waltham High garnered seven, in a game that ended Waltham's losing streak of six games.

Newton High School was in contention in Suburban League play until Arlington High snapped its five-game winning streak on Dickinson Field Friday. Newton's Jeff Hick's pitched well, but support was not of the highest.

In the next previous game to hat one, Newton's Micky Beard pitched his sixth win of the season, beating Waltham, 4-1, away from home.

Scholarships By Christians And Jews Conference

The National Conference of Christians and Jews, Northeastern Region, is offering scholarships ranging as high as $100 toward tuition, fees and rooms to persons interested in attending workshops in Human Relations on various college campuses throughout the nation and abroad this summer. The Scholarship Committee announces through Boston University's News Bureau.

The committee's members include Dr. Charles E. Brown, school superintendent here, Kenneth A. Brown, a Newton resident who teaches at Boston English High School, Charles E. Feeley, who represents the Newton police chief, and Emanuel Goldberg of Newton, director of the B.U. News Bureau.

First Baptist Church Names Mary Magovern

The new director of education at the First Baptist Church in Newton is Miss Mary Magovern, formerly a fifth grade teacher for a year in the Clafin School, Newtonville.

A graduate of Andover Newton Theological School on May 20 with a degree of Master of Religious Education, she attended Union Seminary in New York City following her graduation from Boston University in 1960.

Miss Magovern comes from Agawam, where she was active in Christian education and youth work. She has wide experience in the Baptist Youth Fellowship program of the American Baptist Convention. She was President of the Massachusetts BYF from 1957 to 1959. During that time, she served as a member of the Curriculum of the ABC. She was National Vice-President of the ABC Baptist Youth Fellowship. Miss Magovern was a Massachusetts delegate to the Baptist World Alliance Meetings in London in 1955 and Toronto in 1958.

Miss Magovern is eminently qualified as a Christian educator and leader. She served as a girls' worker at the Bethel Christian Center, was an educational assistant at the First Baptist Church in Winchester and was Director of Education at the First Baptist Church, Queens Village, New York while a student at Union Seminary.

Since February 1, 1963, Miss Magovern has been an Intern of Religious Education at the First Baptist Church in Newton. Active in youth conferences, Miss Magovern has served on the staff of Grotonwood and at Ocean Park, Maine. In 1959 she was a member of the Christian Ministry in National Parks Service with a year in Yellowstone.

Miss Magovern has been honored by having been selected to represent American Baptists at the International Youth Exchange Consultation in Obenwald, Germany, and traveling with 75 American young people who will be spending their Senior year of high school in a European country.

The First Baptist Church in Newton enthusiastically welcomes Miss Mary Magovern to this staff position.

Rabies Clinics Shifted To Fall

Newton's director of health, Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf, announces that the rabies immunization clinics for dogs will be held in the fall, rather than this month.

He explained that at that time, shortly after the opening of schools, dog owners should find it more convenient to have their animals protected. The number of dogs immunized at previous May clinics seldom reached 25 percent of the licensed dog population here, he said.

In addition to the usual weekday clinics, Dr. Greenleaf contemplates holding additional weekend clinics for the convenience of dog owners. Times and places will be announced in this paper, and cards will be sent to all owners of licensed dogs in time for them to make arrangements to attend.

The doctor stated that although there had been no human rabies in Massachusetts since 1935 and no known case of dog rabies since 1949, it is an ever present threat that can only be kept down through almost complete immunization of domestic animals. The report of 4 cases of bat rabies in Massachusetts during the last two years and the recent report that animal rabies has appeared for the first time in many years in New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, which apparently represents an eastward extension of fox rabies from Canada, should remind us of the constant potential threat, he said.

Radio Executive To Leave Station

Nat Herman, of 187 Nehodden road, Waban, account executive for WNAC and the Yankee Network for the past 29 years, will leave WNAC on June 1st. He will announce his new business plans after a brief vacation.

One of the charter members and officers of the Broadcasting Executives Club of New England, Nat is a graduate of Boston University, a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, the Blue Hill Country Club and Temple Ohabei Shalom. He is an active tea captain of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies.

He is married to the former Marjorie Scheffren and they have three children, Matthew, 22, Patricia, 20, and Deborah, 12.

Named Chairman Of Dental Board

Dr. H. Richard Sonis, 19 Evelyn Rd., Waban, has been elected chairman of the Massachusetts Board of Dental Examiners.

He is a graduate of Brown University, Northwestern Dental School, and received his certificate in public health dentistry from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

He is a former assistant professor of Operative Dentistry at Tufts School of Dental Medicine, and is dental chief of the Florence Crittenton Hospital.
